PFC. N. E. CAREY IS MISSING IN ACTION ABROAD

Pfc. Newell E. Carey, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carey, Gettysburg R. 3, near Seven Stars, was the third countian serving in the 80th Division under General Patton to go on the casualty list over the week-end.

A War department telegram delivered to his parents Monday stated that he is reported missing in action in France. No date was given. He served in the infantry.

Pfc. Carey entered service in July, 1942, went overseas in mid-July, 1944 and had been in action for several weeks, letters to his parents stated. He was unmarried and had attended the Franklin township consolidated school at Cashtown. For several months before his induction, he was employed at the naval depot at Mechanicsburg. The last letter was received from him last Thursday.

Brother In France

He has a brother, Pfc. Ralph A. Carey, serving in the infantry in France, and another brother, Pfc. Clyde Carey, who is a patient in Walter Reed hospital at Washington, D. C. Clyde was injured during a six-month stay in England and was returned to this country. Clyde and Ralph had met in England.

The other 80th Division casualties over the week-end were Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, killed in France September 16, and S. Sgt. Charles Gilliland, killed in France September 17.

Sergeant Rentzel, brother of Ellis Rentzel, Biglerville, had attended Arendtsville high school and was employed by the Blue Ridge Oil company and at the Mechanicsburg Naval depot before induction in July, 1942. He went to England in July.

Another casualty reported Monday in this area was Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, Emmitsburg, machine gunner, who is reported seriously wounded in action in France. He is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg. He had been in France since D-Day and had been in England for two years before that. He entered service April, 1941.

BOARD ADJUSTS SCHOOL PLANS

Meeting in special session Monday night at the office of County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh, the Adams county board of school directors discussed and approved a number of resolutions regarding the suspension of school for school-age workers for farm work; the suspension of school because of the nine-day period missed during the polio ban; and the vacation periods throughout the school year.

The text of the resolutions will not be announced until later in the week when a letter will be mailed by Superintendent Slaybaugh to all county teachers and school secretaries. Included in the letter will be instructions concerning the make-up of the school registers for the first month of school.

The resolutions were adopted by the board in order to simplify the accounting of tuition payments and to adjust the school year to losses in school days because of the working time of the pupils and the polio ban.

Expect 75 At Concert Dinner

Seventy-five volunteer workers who will canvass the county to enroll members in the Gettysburg Concert association for the series of three concerts to be given here this winter are expected to attend the dinner-meeting Friday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Pitzer, chairman of the dinner committee, said today.

"It is extremely important that all the volunteer members attend the dinner session to hear the final details of the membership campaign this year," Mrs. Pitzer said. "The important task of enrolling 600 members in the association will begin immediately after the dinner and the drive will close on October 14."

Miss Beatrice Patterson, of Columbia Heights, Inc., will address the dinner session.

Headquarters during the membership campaign will be in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg.

College Communion Service Wednesday

The eleventh annual interdenominational student-faculty Holy Communion service of Gettysburg College will be held at Christ Lutheran church Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, college president, and the Rev. Dr. Dwight P. Putman, pastor, will conduct the service. Music will be presented by a special choir selected by Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, Robert Rau will preside at the organ.

BOROUGH WILL IMPOSE LIENS FOR NEW WALKS

With the burgess and borough engineer absent on account of illness and with a bare quorum of council members in attendance, the borough council, Monday evening, at its October session filed a vacancy on the local board of health; adopted an ordinance to facilitate collection of costs from property owners for pavements laid at borough expense, and passed a resolution covering "emergency" expenditures in the borough highway department.

Other routine matters were handled at the 30-minute session which was one of the shortest in many months. President H. M. Oyer presided.

Lester S. Scott, East Middle street, was named to the borough board of health to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. E. D. Hudson, Sr.

Council adopted unanimously a resolution declaring that an emergency exists in the borough by reason of the unanticipated spending of $4,000 in replacing street sections where openings had been made by the Gettysburg Gas company.

To Use Permit Fees

It was pointed out that the expense is offset by digging permits which reimburse the borough for the replacement costs. The permit fees under Monday's resolution, are appropriated to the use of the borough highway committee in the work of resurfacing highways, in addition to the fund allocated in the 1944 budget.

A borough paving ordinance passed in 1905 was amended by council to simplify and make less costly the procedure for collecting the cost of pavement building from property owners in instances where borough notices are ignored and the work done at borough expense. Previously a suit had to be entered. Now the costs may be collected by the filing of a municipal lien or an assumpsit action. The ordinance calls for the collection of costs "plus 10 per cent" by the borough.

RESUME NIGHT FARM SESSIONS

Night classes for farmers in the Gettysburg section of the county will be opened Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the agricultural workshop at Gettysburg high school. It was announced today by Elmer H. Schriver, vocational "ag" instructor at the school.

Mr. Schriver will instruct the class in the repair, operation and construction of farm machinery. The course, which will run for at least 20 weeks with three-hour sessions each Tuesday and Thursday evenings, is open to all farmers in this area who are interested.

The shop equipment and paint for repair work are being made available by the high school in the state-federal sponsored project. Only the new parts to be used in machine repair work will be furnished by the farmers themselves who may bring pieces of farm machinery and equipment to the workshop for repair.

Similar classes on various agricultural subjects were conducted by Mr. Schriver during the last several winters at the local high school, with good attendance. Hundreds of pieces of farm machinery have been built, re-built or repaired. Other courses covered dairy and poultry raising problems, farm management practices and other related topics.

MRS. MARY HAKE, 95, SUCCUMBS AT HOME TODAY

Mrs. Mary J. Hake, 95, one of Gettysburg's oldest residents and one of the few here who had a personal recollection of events connected with the battle of Gettysburg, died this morning at 8:07 o'clock at her home, 220 Springs avenue. Infirmit of age caused death.

Mrs. Hake had been confined to bed for the greater part of the time since June 13, 1943, when she was taken ill. She observed her ninety-fifth birthday anniversary last November 16 with members of her family.

Mrs. Hake recalled the battle here from an incident at the farm near McKnightstown where she lived with her parents, the late George and Annie Trostle Biessecker. Some Confederate soldiers, believed to have been a part of Stuart's cavalry, stopped at the Biessecker home and took the horses and most of the foodstuffs.

While the Confederates were at the Biessecker farm, the sound of cannon shot at the opening of the battle here were heard and the enemy horsemen mounted and rode off toward Gettysburg at top-speed, she recalled.

Funeral Thursday

Mrs. Hake's husband, the late W. A. Hake, died in 1891. He was a Civil war veteran. The couple had nine children, three of whom survive. They are W. H. Hake, Springs avenue; J. Nevins Hake, Indianapolis, Ind.; and Mrs. Mary Van Dyke, Cranberry, N. J. Two sisters, Mrs. Emma Robert, South street, and Mrs. Milton R. Biessecker, Delaware, Ohio, a grandson and two great grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Hake lived in Adams county all of her life, moving to Gettysburg from a farm near McKnightstown after her husband's death. She was a member of the Reformed church here and the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Funeral services Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Bender funeral home with her pastor, the Rev. H. S. Fox, officiating. Interment in the National cemetery, where her husband is buried. Friends may call Wednesday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home.

MARTIN - KANE NUPTIALS HELD THIS MORNING

The marriage of Miss Ruby Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Kane, Biglerville R. D., to Dr. George W. Martin, son of Brigadier General and Mrs. Joseph I. Martin, Rockford, Ill., was solemnized at a nuptial high mass at 10 o'clock this morning at St. Ignace Catholic church, Buchanan Valley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of cream white brocaded satin with a regal neckline and sweeping court train. Seed pearls trimmed the bodice of the gown. Her train hand-made Belgian lace which has been in the family of the maid-of-honor for over 100 years, formed the wedding veil.

RURAL SCHOOL IS CLOSED BY NEW POLIO CASE

With the diagnosis Monday evening of the third case of infantile paralysis to appear in two days, Pike school in Huntington township was ordered closed for a week and county and Littlestown borough health authorities worked out details of police control measures in that town where two cases appeared over the week-end.

The new victim is Roland C. Chronister, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chronister, Gardner's R. 1, Huntington township. The boy was admitted first to the Hanover hospital last Friday and Monday was moved to the Harrisburg hospital where final diagnosis was made Monday evening.

His case is described as not serious and his physician, Dr. William Flickinger, York Springs, said today the boy's condition is "very good." The home has been placed under quarantine by William F. Shields, county health officer.

Confined To Borough

Pike's school has been closed until next Monday by order of Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director. The school building is to be cleaned thoroughly.

Doctor Crist and Mr. Shields met Monday evening with Littlestown authorities and restricted persons 12 years of age and under to the limits of the borough. No persons under that age limit may leave the town until next Monday when restrictions go off and the schools will reopen if no new cases appear. Church and Sunday school attendance by all age groups will be permitted there next Sunday, however.

The public grade and high schools and the parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday as a polio control measure.

Littlestown officials present for the meeting Monday evening included the Rev. Kenneth D. James, Dr. Donald Cooper, Dr. C. A. Richards, Health Officer H. S. Roberts, Borough Officer Edgar Dillman and Burgess Evan Applier.

ARNOLD JOINS KNOUSE FIRM

M. E. Knouse, president of the Knouse corporation, Peach Glen, today announced that Ralph E. Arnold, formerly of Biglerville, and more recently of Washington, will soon assume the position of vice president in charge of production and purchases for the Knouse firm.

Mr. Arnold came to Adams county in August 1929 from Elgin, Ill. to join the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, remaining with that concern until August, 1941, when he resigned as vice president, director and purchasing agent. He joined the War Production staff in January, 1942, as a consultant on canned foods in the Food Division. In May he became administrator of Canning Machinery Preference Rating Order, P-115. In November of that year Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Section of the Food Division of the WPB and remained in that capacity until the War Food Administration was created, which eliminated the Food Division of the WPB.

Resigns U. S. Post

WFA was created in January, 1943, and Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Division of the Food Distribution Administration and remained in that position until the Office of Materials and Facilities was created within the WFA in May when he became Chief of the Priorities and allocations Branches. He remained there until he resigned his government position on September 2 of this year.

Since his resignation Mr. Arnold made an extensive tour of canning plants throughout the country visiting the major canneries in California, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Ray announce the birth of a son, Jack Alan, at the Warner hospital Saturday, Mrs. Ray is the former Miss Mabel Bechtel, of Lancaster. Tree Limb Upsets Truck Of Pretzels

A large quantity of pretzels and crackers were strewn along West Middle street this morning shortly after 8 o'clock when the trailer truck in which they were being transported caught on an overhanging limb of a tree and crashed into the curb.

The driver, Mack E. Abenroth, Philadelphia, was not injured. The truck was owned by Harry Blades, New York city. No estimate of the damage was given although the driver calculated that approximately one-quarter of the eight to nine ton load had been damaged.

URGE WINTER PROGRAM FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

After a roundtable discussion of recreational needs of Gettysburg young people and the steps that have been and might be taken to meet those needs, members of the Gettysburg Lions club at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening expressed their "appreciation" for the work done last winter by the community recreation group and urged that a similar program be worked out for the coming season.

Henry T. Bream, member of the Lions club and chairman of the community group that arranged for the Friday evening recreation programs at the high school last spring and last winter, told the clubmen the project paid its own way with the use of the building being donated by the school district.

He said the young people cooperated fully as did members of the high school faculty who were called upon to assist. Townspeople also gave their support to the project, Mr. Bream said. Several members of the club, parents of young people who enjoyed the Friday evening sessions at the school building, praised the results of the undertaking.

Present New Members

The discussion was conducted under the direction of the club's community betterment committee, which includes A. E. Hutchison, chairman, Hugh C. McIlhenry and Fred G. Pfeffer.

Two new Lion "cubs" were introduced Monday evening, Richard C. Warren and Oloyd B. Shetter. Thirty-six members attended the meeting with President J. Milton Bender presiding. The dinner session was held at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

PFC. DALE CLUCK SERIOUSLY HURT

Pfc. Dale S. Cluck, 22, a veteran of the Cherbourg and Normandy campaigns, was seriously wounded in action in France September 21, according to a telegram received this morning by his sister, Mrs. Paul Ketterman, Steelwehr avenue.

Pfc. Cluck, who resided at the Ketterman home before he entered service, November 17, 1942, has been in action in France since mid-June. He went to England late in March of this year and crossed the channel between the 16th and 21st of June. He saw action in the battle for the Normandy peninsula with General Omar Bradley's forces. He is an infantryman.

Tweet: to indicate that Cluck has been hospitalized, this morning's telegram disclosed no details.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cluck, of Gettysburg. He had been employed at farm work and had worked for a time at the local furniture factories. Before induction he had been working at Camp Ritchie, Maryland.

He trained at Camp Blanding, Florida; went to Tennessee and Arizona on maneuvers, and then was sent to Camp Phillips, Kansas. Mrs. Ketterman received an undated letter Monday from her brother. It was written in France and said he was all right at that time.

Boche Ordered To Hold Or Die; Abandon Warsaw

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
London, Oct. 3 (AP)—Polish patriots gave up their 63-day battle to wrest battered and besieged Warsaw from the Germans last night, and an escaped Polish officer told Moscow newspapers that thousands of insurgents had crossed the Vistula to Russian lines, defying surrender orders.

"Warsaw is as greatly destroyed as Stalingrad," the officer was quoted in Moscow as saying, "there is no longer any resistance in any part of Warsaw."

Polish Army headquarters in London confirmed earlier Moscow and Berlin dispatches saying that Lt. Gen. Tadeusz (Bob) Komorowski, new exiled Polish commander in chief, had given up the fight.

Details of the capitulation came from Associated Press War Correspondent Daniel De Luce in Moscow. He said the surrender was arranged by Colonel Monter, representing the Komorowski headquarters, and that forces who refused to give up were trying to fight their way from Warsaw across to the east bank of the Vistula river, where the Red Army is entrenched.

Enemy Surprised

Opposite Groenstraat in Holland the Monday assault caught the enemy by surprise, and struck through the heavy crust of the Siegfried defenses, which ran back as deep as nine miles.

Berlin declared "so far the Allies have nowhere pierced really deep into Germany."

The American First Army's new drive into the Siegfried line across the river Wurm north of Aachen still is meeting strong resistance from pillboxes and enemy artillery and mortar fire, Allied headquarters announced.

The war bulletin gave no indication of the progress being made by infantry and tank teams in the hard-going.

The Germans tried to divert strength from Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' wedge into the Siegfried line, aimed between Cologne and Dusseldorf by counterattacking in the forest west of Hergen, some 15 miles to the south.

The counterattack was "contained with no ground lost," the communiqué said.

On Other War Fronts

Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, Oct. 3 (AP)—Nine more small Japanese freighters were sunk or damaged by Allied planes combing the bomb-swept pathway to the Philippines, headquarters announced today. Aerial warfare dominated the Pacific campaign, as it has before in temporary lulls preceding new Allied moves.

Patrol planes sank two small freighters near Manado, northern Celebes, damaged four off Zamboanga, southern Philippines, and two more near the Japanese naval base on Amboina island. Bombers attacked airfields in the Moluccas and Celebes with 134 tons of explosives, and hit the Amboina-Ceram area with 88 tons.

Ground resistance in the southern Palaus, the northern end of the Allied surge toward the Philippines, was limited to "a few fanatical enemy troops," battling from caves with small arms. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported yesterday at Pearl Harbor. He announced formation of a military government on Agaña, southernmost of the invaded islands.

Nimitz announced that 55 Japanese have been killed for every one taken prisoner on Palau—10,151 killed on Peleliu and Angaur and 187 taken prisoner.

British Advance

To the north the British corridor through middle Holland bulged closer toward the Maas (Meuse) and the German frontier in supporting pressure.

The British pushed eight miles southeast of Deuze to Meijel and hurled the Germans from Overloon, center of their biggest pocket west of the Maas.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army drove to the outskirts of Grevenmacher on the Moselle river border, 10 miles from the German town of Trier, and in the south cleared the last Nazis from the forest of Grempesch almost 20 miles east of Nancy.

The Seventh Army liberated Ronchamp in its closest approach head-on toward the town of Belfort. Ronchamp is 10 miles west of Belfort at the entrance to the 15-mile wide Belfort gap to Germany.

A front dispatch said the American First Army's drive north of Aachen was now expected to result in a sudden grand sweep to the Rhine because the Germans in that sector have prepared positions in depth for some 15,000 yards.

The indications are, the dispatch said, that the battle will be hard, bitter and bloody all the way, since the Germans are determined to protect the rich industrial region toward which the First Army is pointed.

Mrs. Hake lived in Adams county all of her life, moving to Gettysburg after her husband's death. She was a member of the Reformed church here and the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Funeral services Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Bender funeral home with her pastor, the Rev. H. S. Fox, officiating. Interment in the National cemetery where her husband is buried. Friends may call Wednesday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home.

MARTIN - KANE NUPTIALS HELD THIS MORNING

The marriage of Miss Ruby Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Kane, Biglerville R. D., to Dr. George W. Martin, son of Brigadier General and Mrs. Joseph I. Martin, Rockford, Ill., was solemnized at a nuptial high mass at 10 o'clock this morning at St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of cream white brocade satin with a regal neckline and sweeping court train. Seed pearls trimmed the bodice of the gown. Heirloom hand-made Belgian lace which has been in the family of the maid-of-honor for over 100 years, formed the wedding veil.

RURAL SCHOOL IS CLOSED BY NEW POLIO CASE

With the diagnosis Monday evening of the third case of infantile paralysis to appear in two days, Pike school in Huntington township was ordered closed for a week and county and Littlestown borough health authorities worked out details of police control measures in that town where two cases appeared over the week-end.

The new victim is Roland C. Chronister, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chronister, Gardner R. 1, Huntington township. The boy was admitted first to the Hanover hospital last Friday and Monday was moved to the Harborsburg hospital where final diagnosis was made Monday evening.

His case is described as not serious and his physician, Dr. William Fickinger, York Springs, said today the boy's condition is "very good." The home has been placed under quarantine by William I. Shields, county health officer.

Confined To Borough

Pike's school has been closed until next Monday by order of Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director. The school building is to be cleaned thoroughly.

Doctor Crist and Mr. Shields met Monday evening with Littlestown authorities and restricted persons 18 years of age and under to the limits of the borough. No persons under that age limit may leave the town until next Monday when restrictions go off and the schools will reopen if no new cases appear. Church and Sunday school attendance by all age groups will be permitted there next Sunday, however.

The public grade and high schools and the parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday as a polio control measure.

ARNOLD JOINS KNOUSE FIRM

M. E. Knouse, president of the Knouse corporation, Peach Glen, today announced that Ralph E. Arnold, formerly of Biglerville, and more recently of Washington, will soon assume the position of vice president in charge of production and purchases for the Knouse firm.

Mr. Arnold came to Adams county in August 1929 from Elgin, Ill., to join the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, remaining with that concern until August, 1941, when he resigned as vice president, director and purchasing agent. He joined the War Production staff in January, 1942, as a consultant on canned foods in the Food Division. In May he became administrator of Canning Machinery Preference Rating Order, P-115. In November of that year Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Section of the Food Division of the WPB and remained in that capacity until the War Food Administration was created, which eliminated the Food Division of the WPB.

Resigns U. S. Post

WPA was created in January, 1943, and Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Division of the Food Distribution Administration until he remained in that position until the Office of Materials and Facilities was created within the WPA in May when he became Chief of the Priorities and Allocations Branches. He remained there until he resigned his government position on September 2 of this year.

Since his resignation Mr. Arnold made an extensive tour of canning plants throughout the country visiting the major canneries in California, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Ray announce the birth of a son, Jack Alan, at the Warner hospital Saturday, Mrs. Ray is the former Miss Mabel Bechtel, of Lancaster. She was formerly employed by Armstrong Cork company. Mr. Ray, recently discharged from the armed service, was a student at Gettysburg college until his enlistment in the Naval Air Corps.

Tree Limb Upsets Truck Of Pretzels

A large quantity of pretzels and crackers were strewn along West Middle street this morning shortly after 8 o'clock when the trailer truck in which they were being transported caught on an overhanging limb of a tree and crashed into the curb.

The driver, Mack E. Abenroth, Philadelphia, was not injured. The truck was owned by Harry Blades, New York city. No estimate of the damage was given although the driver calculated that approximately one-quarter of the eight to nine ton load had been damaged.

URGE WINTER PROGRAM FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

After a roundtable discussion of recreational needs of Gettysburg young people and the steps that have been and might be taken to meet those needs, members of the Gettysburg Lions club at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening expressed their "appreciation for the work done last winter by the community recreation group and urged that a similar program be worked out for the coming season."

Henry T. Bream, member of the Lions club and chairman of the community group that arranged for the Friday evening recreation programs at the high school last spring and late winter, told the clubmen the project paid its own way with the use of the building being donated by the school district.

He said the young people cooperated fully as did members of the high school faculty who were called upon to assist. Townspeople also gave their support to the project. Mr. Bream said. Several members of the club, parents of young people who enjoyed the Friday evening sessions at the school building, praised the results of the undertaking.

Present New Members

The discussion was conducted under the direction of the club's community betterment committee which includes A. E. Hutchison, chairman, Hugh C. McIlhenry and Fred G. Pfeiffer.

Two new Lion "cubs" were introduced Monday evening, Richard C. Warren and Cloyd B. Shetter. Thirty-six members attended the meeting with President J. Milton Bender presiding. The dinner session was held at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

An appeal for a contribution to the Civic Nursing fund was referred to the finance committee and a 10-minute motion picture, "Memo to Joe" was presented in behalf of the coming War Fund campaign after a statement of the USO-War Fund services by Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the USO organization in Adams county.

PFC. DALE CLUCK SERIOUSLY HURT

Pfc. Dale S. Cluck, 22, a veteran of the Cherbourg and Normandy campaigns, was seriously wounded in action in France September 21, according to a telegram received this morning by his sister, Mrs. Paul Ketterman, Steinwehr avenue.

Pfc. Cluck, who resided at the Ketterman home before he entered service, November 17, 1942, has been in action in France since mid-June. He went to England late in March of this year and crossed the channel between the 10th and 21st of June. He saw action in the battle for the Normandy peninsula with General Omar Bradley's forces. He is an infantryman.

Except to indicate that Cluck has been hospitalized, this morning's telegram disclosed no details.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cluck, of Gettysburg. He had been employed at farm work and had worked for a time at the local furniture factories. Before induction he had been working at Camp Ritchie, Maryland.

He trained at Camp Blanding, Florida; went to Tennessee and Arizona on maneuvers, and then was sent to Camp Phillips, Kansas. Mrs. Ketterman received an undated letter Monday from her brother. It was written in France and said he was all right at that time.

ON FURLOUGH HERE

Boche Ordered To Hold Or Die; Abandon Warsaw

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
London, Oct. 3 (AP)—Polish patriots gave up their 63-day battle to wrest battered and besieged Warsaw from the Germans last night, and an escaped Polish officer told Moscow newspapers that thousands of insurgents had crossed the Vistula to Russian lines, defying surrender orders.

"Warsaw is as greatly destroyed as Stalingrad," the officer was quoted in Moscow as saying, "there is no longer any resistance in any part of Warsaw."

Polish Army headquarters in London confirmed earlier Moscow and Berlin dispatches saying that Lt. Gen. Tadeusz (Bor) Komorowski, new exiled Polish commander in chief, had given up the fight.

Details of the capitulation came from Associated Press War Correspondent Daniel De Luce in Moscow. He said the surrender was arranged by Colonel Monter, representing the Komorowski headquarters, and that forces who refused to give up were trying to fight their way from Warsaw across to the east bank of the Vistula river, where the Red Army is entrenched.

On Other War Fronts

Allied Headquarters, New Guinea.
Oct. 3 (AP)—Nine more small Japanese freighters were sunk or damaged by Allied planes combing the bomb-swept pathway to the Philippines, headquarters announced today. Aerial warfare dominated the Pacific campaign, as it has before in temporary lulls preceding new Allied moves.

Patrol planes sank two small freighters near Manado, northern Celebes, damaged four off Zamboanga, southern Philippines, and two more near the Japanese naval base on Amboina island. Bombers attacked airfields in the Moluccas and Celebes with 134 tons of explosives, and hit the Amboina-Ceram area with 88 tons.

Ground resistance in the southern Palau, the northern end of the Allied surge toward the Philippines, was limited to "a few fanatical enemy troops," battling from caves with small arms, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported yesterday at Pearl Harbor. He announced formation of a military government on Agaña, southernmost of the invaded islands.

Nimitz announced that 55 Japanese have been killed for every one taken prisoner on Palau—10,151 killed on Peleliu and Angaur and 187 taken prisoner.

Rome, Oct. 3 (AP)—American infantry captured Monghidoro, an important road junction 18 miles due south of Bologna, as the Fifth Army plowed slowly northward yesterday through the Apennines in a drive still handicapped by deep mud.

The British Eighth Army's attack on the Adriatic sector was brought to a complete standstill by the flooded Fiumicino river behind which the Germans are strongly entrenched.

The Germans were counterattacking Americans on the dominant heights of Monte Battaglia and Monte Cappella which command a road joining the important Bologna-Rimini highway at Imola, 11 miles away.

On the road to Imola itself enemy resistance remained strong. The farthest point of advance was Carseggio, roughly a mile behind the strongholds on the two peaks.

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—Strong Allied forces have landed on the north-west part of Crete, the Morocco radio asserted today.

The brief announcement, heard by The Associated Press, gave no details.

The German garrison at Crete, however, appeared in a hopeless position in view of the Allied occupation earlier of Kythera, which is between Crete and the mainland of Greece.

The Germans have been reported to be withdrawing their forces from islands ringing the southern tip of Greece, but there have been no indications that they had evacuated Crete—a symbol of one of the Nazis' greatest triumphs in the days when Hitler was on the march.

By JAMES M. LONG
London, Oct. 3 (AP)—American troops supported by tanks and artillery struck deeper into the Siegfried line eight miles north of Aachen today in heavy battle, and fought at close quarters for two towns inside Germany.

Berlin said the First Army had cut a wedge 11 miles wide and nine miles deep into German defenses.

A front dispatch said house-to-house fighting developed for the town of Ubach, two miles from the Dutch border, against Germans ordered to hold or be shot.

Supreme headquarters itself gave no details of second-day gains in the assault which carried across the Wurm river and knocked out a chunk of from three to five miles from the westwall. One front report said the First Army had hit two miles deep along a six-mile sector.

Enemy Surprised

Opposite Groenstraat in Holland the Monday assault caught the enemy by surprise, and struck through the heavy crust of the Siegfried defenses, which ran back as deep as 15 miles.

Berlin declared "so far the Allies have nowhere pierced really deep into Germany."

The American First Army's new drive into the Siegfried line across the river Wurm north of Aachen still is meeting strong resistance from pillboxes and enemy artillery and mortar fire. Allied headquarters announced.

The war bulletin gave no indication of the progress being made by infantry and tank teams in the hard-going.

The Germans tried to divert strength from Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' wedge into the Siegfried line, aimed between Cologne and Dusseldorf by counterattacking in the forest west of Hurlgen, some 15 miles to the south.

The counterattack was "contained with no ground lost," the communiqué said.

British Advance

To the north the British corridor through middle Holland bulged closer toward the Maas (Meuse) and the German frontier in supporting pressure.

The British pushed eight miles southeast of Deuze to Meijel and hurled the Germans from Overloon, center of their biggest pocket west of the Maas.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army drove to the outskirts of Grevenmacher on the Moselle river border, 10 miles from the German town of Trier, and in the south cleared the last Nazis from the forest of Greamecy almost 20 miles due east of Nancy.

The Seventh Army liberated Ronchamp in its closest approach head-on toward the town of Belfort. Ronchamp is 10 miles west of Belfort at the entrance to the 15-mile wide Belfort gap to Germany.

A front dispatch said the American First Army's drive north of Aachen was not expected to result in a sudden grand sweep to the Rhine because the Germans in that sector have prepared positions in depth for some 15,000 yards.

The indications are, the dispatch said, that the battle will be hard, bitter and bloody all the way, since the Germans are determined to protect the rich industrial region toward which the First Army is pointed.

Lt. John E. Brown Back From Overseas

Pfc. Newell E. Carey, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carey, Gettysburg R. 3, near Seven Stars, was the third countian serving in the 60th Division under General Patton to go on the casualty list over the week-end.

A War department telegram delivered to his parents Monday stated that he is reported missing in action in France. No date was given. He served in the infantry.

Pfc. Carey entered service in July, 1942, went overseas in mid-July, 1944 and had been in action for several weeks, letters to his parents stated. He was unmarried and had attended the Franklin township consolidated school at Cashtown. For several months before his induction, he was employed at the naval depot at Mechanicsburg. The last letter was received from him last Thursday.

Brother In France

He has a brother, Pfc. Ralph A. Carey, serving in the infantry in France, and another brother, Pfc. Clyde Carey, who is a patient in Walter Reed hospital at Washington, D. C. Clyde was injured during a six-month stay in England and was returned to this country. Clyde and Ralph had met in England.

The other 60th Division casualties over the week-end were Sgt. Leroy Rentzel, killed in France September 16, and S. Sgt. Charles Gilling, killed in France September 17.

Sergeant Rentzel, brother of Ellis Rentzel, Biglerville, had attended Arendtsville high school and was employed by the Blue Ridge Oil company and at the Mechanicsburg Naval depot before induction in July, 1942. He went to England in July.

Another casualty reported Monday in this area was Sgt. Earl Thomas Rosensteel, 25, Emmitsburg, machine gunner, who is reported seriously wounded in action in France. He is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rosensteel, Emmitsburg. He had been in France since D-Day and had been in England for two years before that. He entered service April, 1941.

BOARD ADJUSTS SCHOOL PLANS

Meeting in special session Monday night at the office of County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh, the Adams county board of school directors discussed and approved a number of resolutions regarding the suspension of school for school-age workers for farm work; the suspension of school because of the nine-day period missed during the polo ban; and the vacation periods throughout the school year.

The text of the resolutions will not be announced until later in the week when a letter will be mailed by Superintendent Slaybaugh to all county teachers and school secretaries. Included in the letter will be instructions concerning the make-up of the school registers for the first month of school.

The resolutions were adopted by the board in order to simplify the accounting of tuition payments and to adjust the school year to losses in school days because of the working time of the pupils and the polo ban.

Expect 75 At Concert Dinner

Seventy-five volunteer workers who will canvass the county to enroll members in the Gettysburg Concert association for the series of three concerts to be given here this winter are expected to attend the dinner-meeting Friday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Pitzer, chairman of the dinner committee, said today.

"It is extremely important that all the volunteer members attend the dinner session to hear the final details of the membership campaign this year," Mrs. Pitzer said. "The important task of enrolling 600 members in the association will begin immediately after the dinner and the drive will close on October 14."

Miss Beatrice Patterson, of Columbia College, Inc., will address the dinner session. Headquarters during the membership campaign will be in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg.

College Communion Service Wednesday

The eleventh annual interdenominational student-faculty Holy Communion service of Gettysburg college will be held at Christ Lutheran church Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, college president, and the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, pastor, will conduct the service. Music will be presented by a special choir selected by Prof. Parker B. Wagnild. Robert Rau will preside at the organ.

BOROUGH WILL IMPOSE LIENS FOR NEW WALKS

With the burgess and borough engineer absent on account of illness and with a bare quorum of council members in attendance, the borough council, Monday evening, at its October session filled a vacancy on the local board of health; adopted an ordinance to facilitate collection of costs from property owners for pavements laid at borough expense, and passed a resolution covering "emergency" expenditures in the borough highway department.

Other routine matters were handled at the 30-minute session which was one of the shortest in many months. President H. M. Oyler presided.

Lester S. Scott, East Middle street, was named to the borough board of health to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. E. D. Hudson, Sr.

Council adopted unanimously a resolution declaring that an emergency exists in the borough by reason of the unanticipated spending of $4,000 in replacing street sections where openings had been made by the Gettysburg Gas company.

To Use Permit Fees

It was pointed out that the expense is offset by digging permits which reimburse the borough for the replacement costs. The permit fees under Monday's resolution, are appropriated to the use of the borough highway committee in the work of resurfacing highways, in addition to the fund allocated in the 1944 budget.

A borough paving ordinance passed in 1905 was amended by council to simplify and make less costly the procedure for collecting the cost of pavement building from property owners in instances where borough notices are ignored and the work done at borough expense. Previously a suit had to be entered. Now the costs may be collected by the filing of a municipal lien or an assumpsit action. The ordinance calls for the collection of costs "plus 10 per cent" by the borough.

RESUME NIGHT FARM SESSIONS

Night classes for farmers in the Gettysburg section of the county will be opened Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the agricultural workshop at Gettysburg high school, it was announced today by Elmer H. Schriver, vocational "ag" instructor at the school.

Mr. Schriver will instruct the class in the repair, operation and construction of farm machinery. The course, which will run for at least 20 weeks with three-hour sessions each Tuesday and Thursday evening, is open to all farmers in this area who are interested.

The shop equipment and paint for repair work are being made available by the high school in the state-federal sponsored project. Only the new parts to be used in machine repair work will be furnished by the farmers themselves who may bring pieces of farm machinery and equipment to the workshop for repair.

Similar classes on various agricultural subjects were conducted by Mr. Schriver during the last several winters at the local high school with good attendance. Hundreds of pieces of farm machinery have been built, re-built or repaired. Other courses covered dairy and poultry raisers problems, farm management practices and other related topics.

MRS. MARY HAKE, 95, SUCCUMBS AT HOME TODAY

Mrs. Mary J. Hake, 95, one of Gettysburg's oldest residents and one of the few here who had a personal recollection of events connected with the battle of Gettysburg, died this morning at 8:07 o'clock at her home, 230 Springs avenue. Infirmities of age caused death.

Mrs. Hake had been confined to bed for the greater part of the time since June 13, 1943, when she was taken ill. She observed her ninety-fifth birthday anniversary last November 16 with members of her family.

Mrs. Hake recalled the battle here from an incident at the farm near McKnightstown where she lived with her parents, the late George and Annie Trostle Biesecker. Some Confederate soldiers, believed to have been a part of Stuart's cavalry, stopped at the Biesecker home and took the horses and most of the foodstuffs.

While the Confederates were at the Biesecker farm, the sound of cannon shot at the opening of the battle here were heard and the enemy horsemen mounted and rode off toward Gettysburg at top-speed, she recalled.

Funeral Thursday

Mrs. Hake's husband, the late W. A. Hake, died in 1891. He was a Civil war veteran. The couple had nine children, three of whom survive. They are W. H. Hake, Springs avenue; J. Nevin Hake, Indianapolis, Ind.; and Mrs. Mary Van Dyke, Cranberry, N. J. Two sisters, Mrs. Emma Rebert, South street, and Mrs. Milton R. Biesecker, Delaware, Ohio, a grandson and two great grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Hake lived in Adams county all of her life, moving to Gettysburg from a farm near McKnightstown after her husband's death. She was a member of the Reformed church here and the Ladies of the G. A. R. Funeral services Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Bender funeral home with her pastor, the Rev. H. S. Fox, officiating. Interment in the National cemetery where her husband is buried. Friends may call Wednesday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home.

MARTIN - KANE NUPTIALS HELD THIS MORNING

The marriage of Miss Ruby Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Kane, Biglerville R. D., to Dr. George W. Martin, son of Brigadier General and Mrs. Joseph I. Martin, Rockford, Ill., was solemnized at a nuptial high mass at 10 o'clock this morning at St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of cream white brocaded satin with a regal neckline and sweeping court train. Seed pearls trimmed the bodice of the gown. Heirloom hand-made Belgian lace which has been in the family of the maid-of-honor for over 100 years, formed the wedding veil.

Conewago Deanery Will Meet Sunday

The Conewago Deanery Council of the National Council of Catholic Women will hold an important business meeting in St. Aloysius parish hall, Littlestown, Sunday afternoon, October 8, at 2:30 o'clock. In addition to the board members, all parish chairmen of standing committees are urged to attend the meeting when special instructions concerning their various duties will be outlined.

At the same time the possibility of sending a delegate from the Deanery to the national convention of the National Council of Catholic Women in Toledo, Ohio, from October 21 to 25, will be discussed. The Conewago Deanery comprises the following parishes: Sacred Heart, Conewago; St. Joseph's, Bonneauville; Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Fairfield; St. Francis Xavier, Gettysburg; St. Aloysius, Littlestown; Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, New Oxford, and St. Ignatius, Buchanan Valley.

RURAL SCHOOL IS CLOSED BY NEW POLIO CASE

With the diagnosis Monday evening of the third case of infantile paralysis to appear in two days, Pike school in Huntington township was ordered closed for a week and county and Littlestown borough health authorities worked out details of police control measures in that town where two cases appeared over the week-end.

The new victim is Roland C. Chronister, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chronister, Gardner R. 1, Huntington township. The boy was admitted first to the Hanover hospital last Friday and Monday was moved to the Harrisburg hospital where final diagnosis was made Monday evening.

His case is described as not serious and his physician, Dr. William Fickinger, York Springs, said today the boy's condition is "very good." The home has been placed under quarantine by William I. Shields, county health officer.

Confined To Borough

Pike's school has been closed until next Monday by order of Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director. The school building is to be cleaned thoroughly.

Doctor Crist and Mr. Shields met Monday evening with Littlestown authorities and restricted persons 18 years of age and under to the limits of the borough. No persons under that age limit may leave the town until next Monday when restrictions go off and the schools will reopen if no new cases appear. Church and Sunday school attendance by all age groups will be permitted there next Sunday, however.

The public grade and high schools and the parochial schools in Littlestown were closed Monday as a polio control measure.

ARNOLD JOINS KNOUSE FIRM

M. E. Knouse, president of the Knouse corporation, Peach Glen, today announced that Ralph E. Arnold, formerly of Biglerville, and more recently of Washington, will soon assume the position of vice president in charge of production and purchases for the Knouse firm.

Mr. Arnold came to Adams county in August 1929 from Elgin, Ill., to join the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, remaining with that concern until August, 1941, when he resigned as vice president, director and purchasing agent. He joined the War Production staff in January, 1942, as a consultant on canned foods in the Food Division. In May he became administrator of Canning Machinery Preference Rating Order, P-115. In November of that year Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Section of the Food Division of the WPB and remained in that capacity until the War Food Administration was created, which eliminated the Food Division of the WPB.

Resigns U. S. Post
WFA was created in January, 1943, and Mr. Arnold became Chief of the Priorities Division of the Food Distribution Administration and remained in that position until the Office of Materials and Facilities was created within the WFA in May when he became Chief of the Priorities and Allocations Branches. He remained there until he resigned his government position on September 2 of this year.

Since his resignation Mr. Arnold made an extensive tour of canning plants throughout the country visiting the major canneries in California, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

Tree Limb Upsets Truck Of Pretzels

A large quantity of pretzels and crackers were strewn along West Middle street this morning shortly after 8 o'clock when the trailer truck in which they were being transported caught on an overhanging limb of a tree and crashed into the curb.

The driver, Mack E. Abenroth, Philadelphia, was not injured. The truck was owned by Harry Blades, New York city. No estimate of the damage was given although the driver calculated that approximately one-quarter of the eight to nine ton load had been damaged.

URGE WINTER PROGRAM FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

After a roundtable discussion of recreational needs of Gettysburg young people and the steps that have been and might be taken to meet those needs, members of the Gettysburg Lions club at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening expressed their "appreciation for the work done last winter by the community recreation group and urged that a similar program be worked out for the coming season."

Henry T. Bream, member of the Lions club and chairman of the community group that arranged for the Friday evening recreation programs at the high school last spring and late winter, told the clubmen the project paid its own way with the use of the building being donated by the school district.

He said the young people cooperated fully as did members of the high school faculty who were called upon to assist. Townspeople also gave their support to the project, Mr. Bream said. Several members of the club, parents of young people who enjoyed the Friday evening sessions at the school building, praised the results of the undertaking.

Present New Members

The discussion was conducted under the direction of the club's community betterment committee which includes A. E. Hutchison, chairman, Hugh C. McIlhenry and Fred G. Pfeiffer.

Two new Lion "cubs" were introduced Monday evening, Richard C. Warren and Cloyd B. Shetter. Thirty-six members attended the meeting with President J. Milton Bender presiding. The dinner session was held at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

An appeal for a contribution to the Civic Nursing fund was referred to the finance committee and a 10-minute motion picture, "Memo to Joe," was presented in behalf of the coming War Fund campaign after a statement of the USO-War Fund services by Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the USO organization in Adams county.

PFC. DALE CLUCK SERIOUSLY HURT

Pfc. Dale S. Cluck, 22, a veteran of the Cherbourg and Normandy campaigns, was seriously wounded in action in France September 21, according to a telegram received this morning by his sister, Mrs. Paul Ketterman, Steinwehr avenue.

Pfc. Cluck, who resided at the Ketterman home before he entered service, November 17, 1942, has been in action in France since mid-June. He went to England late in June of this year and crossed the channel between the 10th and 21st of June. He saw action in the battle for the Normandy peninsula with General Omar Bradley's forces. He is an infantryman.

Except to indicate that Cluck has been hospitalized, this morning's telegram disclosed no details.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cluck, of Gettysburg. He had been employed at farm work and had worked for a time at the local furniture factories. Before induction he had been working at Camp Ritchie, Maryland.

He trained at Camp Blanding, Florida; went to Tennessee and Arizona on maneuvers, and then was sent to Camp Phillips, Kansas. Mrs. Ketterman received an undated letter Monday from her brother. It was written in France and said he was all right at that time.

ON FURLOUGH HERE

Boche Ordered To Hold Or Die; Abandon Warsaw

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—Polish patriots gave up their 63-day battle to wrest battered and besieged Warsaw from the Germans last night, and an escaped Polish officer told Moscow newspapers that thousands of insurgents had crossed the Vistula to Russian lines, defying surrender orders.

"Warsaw is as greatly destroyed as Stalingrad," the officer was quoted in Moscow as saying, "there is no longer any resistance in any part of Warsaw."

Polish Army headquarters in London confirmed earlier Moscow and Berlin dispatches saying that Lt. Gen. Tadeusz (Bor) Komorowski, new exiled Polish commander in chief, had given up the fight.

Details of the capitulation came from Associated Press War Correspondent Daniel De Luce in Moscow. He said the surrender was arranged by Colonel Monter, representing the Komorowski headquarters, and that forces who refused to give up were trying to fight their way from Warsaw across to the east bank of the Vistula river, where the Red Army is entrenched.

On Other War Fronts

Allied Headquarters, New Guinea

Oct. 3 (AP)—Nine more small Japanese freighters were sunk or damaged by Allied planes combing the bomb-swept pathway to the Philippines, headquarters announced today. Aerial warfare dominated the Pacific campaign, as it has before in temporary lulls preceding new Allied moves.

Patrol planes sank two small freighters near Manado, northern Celebes, damaged four off Zamboanga, southern Philippines, and two more near the Japanese naval base on Ambona island. Bombers attacked airfields in the Moluccas and Celebes with 134 tons of explosives, and hit the Ambona-Ceram area with 88 tons.

Ground resistance in the southern Palau, the northern end of the Allied surge toward the Philippines, was limited to "a few fanatical enemy troops," battling from caves with small arms. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported yesterday at Pearl Harbor. He announced formation of a military government on Agaur, southernmost of the invaded islands.

Nimitz announced that 55 Japanese have been killed for every one taken prisoner on Palau—10,151 killed on Peleliu and Angaur and 187 taken prisoner.

Rome, Oct. 3 (AP)—American infantry captured Monghidoro, an important road junction 18 miles due south of Bologna, as the Fifth Army plowed slowly northward yesterday through the Apennines in a drive still handicapped by deep mud.

The British Eighth Army's attack on the Adriatic sector was brought to a complete standstill by the flood-flooded Fiumicino river behind which the Germans are strongly entrenched.

The Germans were counterattacking Americans on the dominant heights of Monte Battaglia and Monte Cappella which command a road joining the important Bologna-Rimini highway at Imola, 11 miles away.

On the road to Imola itself enemy resistance remained strong. The farthest point of advance was Carseggio, roughly a mile behind the strongholds on the two peaks.

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—Strong Allied forces have landed on the north-west part of Crete, the Morocco radio asserted today.

The brief announcement, heard by The Associated Press, gave no details.

The German garrison at Crete, however, appeared in a hopeless position in view of the Allied occupation earlier of Kythera, which is between Crete and the mainland of Greece.

The Germans have been reported to be withdrawing their forces from islands ringing the southern tip of Greece, but there have been no indications that they had evacuated Crete—a symbol of one of the Nazis' greatest triumphs in the days when Hitler was on the march.

By JAMES M. LONG

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—American troops supported by tanks and artillery struck deeper into the Siegfried line eight miles north of Aachen today in heavy battle, and fought at close quarters for two towns inside Germany.

Berlin said the First Army had cut a wedge 11 miles wide and nine miles deep into German defenses.

A front dispatch said house-to-house fighting developed for the town of Ubach, two miles from the Dutch border, against Germans ordered to hold or be shot.

Supreme headquarters itself gave no details of second-day gains in the assault which carried across the Wurm river and knocked out a chunk of from three to five miles from the westwall. One front report said the First Army had hit two miles deep along a six-mile sector.

Enemy Surprised

Opposite Groenstraat in Holland the Monday assault caught the enemy by surprise, and struck through the heavy crust of the Siegfried defenses, which ran back as deep as nine miles.

Berlin declared "so far the Allies have nowhere pierced really deep into Germany."

The American First Army's new drive into the Selgried line across the river Wurm north of Aachen still is meeting strong resistance from pillboxes and enemy artillery and mortar fire, Allied headquarters announced.

The war bulletin gave no indication of the progress being made by infantry and tank teams in the hard-going.

The Germans tried to divert strength from Lieut. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' wedge into the Siegfried line, aimed between Cologne and Dusseldorf by counterattacking in the forest west of Hurtgen, some 15 miles to the south.

The counterattack was "contained with no ground lost," the communiqué said.

British Advance

To the north the British corridor through middle Holland bulged closer toward the Maas (Meuse) and the German frontier in supporting pressure.

The British pushed eight miles southeast of Deuze to Meijel and hurried the Germans from Overloon, center of their biggest pocket west of the Maas.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army drove to the outskirts of Grevenmacher on the Moselle river border, 10 miles from the German town of Trier, and in the south cleared the last Nazis from the forest of Grenecey almost 20 miles due east of Nancy.

The Seventh Army liberated Ronchamp in its closest approach head-on toward the town of Belfort. Ronchamp is 10 miles west of Belfort at the entrance to the 15-mile wide Belfort gap to Germany.

A front dispatch said the American First Army's drive north of Aachen was not expected to result in a sudden grand sweep to the Rhine because the Germans in that sector have prepared positions in depth for some 15,000 yards.

The indications are, the dispatch said that the battle will be hard, bitter and bloody all the way, since the Germans are determined to protect the rich industrial region toward which the First Army is pointed.

Lt. John E. Brown Back From Overseas

First Lt. John E. Brown is spending a 22-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown, Fairfield. Lt. Brown is a navigator on a bomber and returned recently from overseas after having made 50 missions.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Harry Holtzworth, 32 East Broadway, and Richard Mills, Gettysburg R. 5, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Discharges included Roy C. Watson, Hunterstown; Mrs. Jack W. Ray and infant son, Jack Allen, Gettysburg R. 4, and Mrs. David H. Tracey and infant son, Jan Vincent, Taneytown.

SEES TOUGH TASK AHEAD IN GERMANY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(Associated Press War Analyst)
The American First Army's heavy and thus far successful attack in the Aachen sector may well be a preliminary to the all-out offensive for the German frontier defenses, but a tough task lies ahead of the Allies and we shall do well to note General Eisenhower's caution to correspondents yesterday not to count too immediately on a break through the Siegfried line.

As a matter of fact it may not all to be the first to crash past Hitler's border defenses. As pointed out in this column yesterday, one would expect Eisenhower to stage a series of big attacks along the entire 460-mile front, and it may be that the break will be made in some other sector.

The west wall in the Aachen zone presents a formidable barrier, and the mighty Rhine may be even more difficult since this swiftly moving river varies in width from a quarter to a third of a mile in the Cologne zone beyond Aachen. Should the Germans destroy the great bridges at Cologne and at neighboring cities it would give the Allied engineers something to sweat over.

Race Against Time

Hitler has massed much strength in this strategic sector in anticipation of the attack which now has been launched. If this were the only battle he had to fight in the coming offensive he might hope to stand off the enemy for a considerable time.

Eisenhower is confronted, as I see it, with two interlocking problems—logistics and the rapidly approaching winter weather. The logistics relate to the maintenance of adequate supplies in view of the Allied shortage of sea port facilities. The demands for a wholesale offensive are mountainous. Moreover, the Allied communications in France now are greatly extended, adding to the difficulties.

The Allies have been racing against time to get set for the all-out push while the weather still holds good. Just what stage of preparation they have achieved isn't apparent, but the Germans certainly anticipate a swiftness of the attack in the immediate future.

"Have Hitler On Toast"

Hitler's troubles will multiply rapidly when the Allies launch big drives at other strategic points in the line, because he has no reserves to meet so many commitments. If he weakens any point under attack by withdrawing troops for use elsewhere, then General Ike will hurl fresh strength against the weakened spot.

Thus while the Allies have a hard fight ahead of them they actually have Hitler on toast, since ultimately he must give way to this pressure. His forces on the western front are outnumbered at least three to one, and many of his "reserves" have been recruited from men who are unfit for active service. That's outside the fact that the Allies have overwhelming superiority in the air and in other equipment of all categories.

We are entitled to hope that the imminent conclusion of the important Baltic campaign will release large numbers of Red troops for use against the German Vistula line where the Hitlerites have been holding strongly. Increased pressure on Warsaw and at other points in this powerful front would complement the coming offensive in the west.

WAR FUND UNIT TO DINE MONDAY

Members of the Gettysburg college National War Fund drive committee will hold a dinner meeting Monday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg at 8:30 o'clock to organize the subscription campaign for the coming year.

Approximately forty-five members, including one representative from each living group on the campus and three faculty representatives are expected to attend. Milton E. Raup, of Harrisburg, is general chairman of the campus unit.

He has based his program on a personal contact campaign, moving one canvasser for every 10 persons on the campus. The college goal for this year is $1,700, the same total as was subscribed last winter.

Miss Judith Austin of New York city, a representative of the World Student Service Fund, will speak at the dinner. Faculty members scheduled to attend are Dean Wilbur E. Tibberg, Dr. William P. O'Leary and Prof. Parker B. Wegman, college chaplain.

The student members of the committee, in addition to Raup, include Miss Nancy Igle, canvassing chairman, and Miss Joyce Weaver, Miss Jean Mayer, Miss Joy Nelson, Miss Frances Bentley and Kenneth Smith.

DEATH

Sandra Ann Snyder

Sandra Ann Snyder, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Snyder, Littlestown R. D. 2, died Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the Hanover General hospital, at the age of four days.

Surviving are the parents, Ralph L. and Betty Laugerman-Snyder; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Snyder, Littlestown R. D. 2, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Laugerman, Hanover.

Gravestone services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the Rev. E. Philip Sent, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, McSherrytown. Interment was made in Christ Reformed church cemetery, near Littlestown.

Name Executors Of Two Estates

Surviving relatives were named beneficiaries in the estates of two late countians in wills filed for probate this morning at the court house.

The late Harriet E. Sanders, of Gettysburg, bequeathed all of her estate to her husband, Dr. Charles F. Sanders, Broadway, and named him executor. In the second will, the late Rosey Hagerman, of Centennial, appointed two children, J. A. Hagerman and Rosey Hagerman, executors and lifetime beneficiaries of the estate, total valuation of which was placed at about $1,225.

LT. HAAS WEDS MISS GIBSON

Miss Doris Louise Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gibson, Harrisburg, and Lt. Eugene M. Haas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Haas, Hanover, will be married this afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at the Bethlehem Lutheran church, Green street, Harrisburg.

The pastor, the Rev. E. Martin Grove, will perform the ceremony. Mrs. Alfred Wolf, a sister of the bridegroom, will be the matron of honor, while Alfred Wolf, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, will act as best man.

Only members of the family will attend the informal ceremony. Immediately following the wedding, the newly-married couple will leave for Lincoln, Nebraska, where Lieutenant Haas is assigned to the Lincoln Army Air field.

Both the bride and the bridegroom are graduates of Gettysburg college in the class of 1943. Miss Gibson, a member of the Chi Omega sorority, has been teaching history and English in the Elizabethtown high school, Elizabethtown.

Lieutenant Haas received his commission in the infantry upon his graduation from college, but later transferred to the Air Corps and last week was graduated from the San Marcos, Texas, Army Air Forces navigation school, earning his navigator's wings.

While in college he played varsity center on the football team for two years. He also played varsity basketball for two years. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity.

CLUB EXCHANGE PROGRAM OPENS

The first of a new series of exchange programs with nearby clubs was the feature of the weekly Rotary meeting of the Gettysburg Rotary club Monday evening at the YWCA.

The Littlestown club was in charge of the program, with Neraeh A. Crouse, presiding. He introduced Ernest W. Dunbar, a past district governor and past director of the Rotary International, after which Miss Doris Legore sang two solos, accompanied by Miss A. Anne Manbeck, supervisor of music in the Littlestown public schools.

Luther Ritter, president of the Littlestown club, also was introduced. The main talk of the evening was given by Luther D. Snyder, secretary-treasurer of the Littlestown Hardware and Foundry company, who presented an illustrated address on the war implements now being produced by his company.

Describes Weapons

Among the weapons are the hand grenade, the rifle grenade, shell plugs, and practice dummies of grenades and mines for the training of troops. He described the construction of the various devices and the ways in which they are used.

Other products the Littlestown firm makes for the government include lamp brackets and chart weights for ships, inserts for concrete, fuse covers for booby traps, pipe feet for ship beds, electric bushings, vises, towel racks and soap dishes for ships and other military installations.

Paul Kinsey, chairman of the Adams county war fund drive showed a motion picture, "Memo for Joe," which gave a description of the forthcoming campaign. The projector was operated by Elmer Schriver.

GIVING LECTURE ON WILLIAM PENN

PIPE DREAM

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Four women war workers, unable to locate any cigarettes, are puffing away on pipes—and urging other women to follow suit.

Does pipe smoking make them sick? "Well," coughed Mrs. Alma Hunt as the four began their day of it, "not much."

On the average, a freight car runs for 30 years without being set out of a train because of a "hot box."

THANKS PRESS FOR SUPPORTING 5 BOND DRIVES

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—A testimonial to "the amazing support newspapers have given the five war loan drives" has been made public by Ted R. Gamble, director of the War Finance division of the Treasury department.

Gamble said in a statement to Chairman F. E. Tripp of the Allied Newspaper council:

"On this, National Newspaper Week, I would like to express the gratitude of the Treasury for the amazing support newspapers have given the five war loan drives. In the last four drives alone the daily and weekly newspapers published a total of 589,623 separate war bond advertisements with a value of $31,213,760.

"A total of over $77,000,000 in newspaper advertising has been devoted to the sale of war bonds since May, 1941.

"In addition, newspapers contributed 163,244,463 lines of news and editorial space to promote the last four drives.

"Our compliments go not only to the newspapers but the thousands of business organizations and individuals that have answered the Treasury's urgent call to sponsor this vital advertising.

"America owes a debt of gratitude to newspapers for their loyal and patriotic support of this vital war financing program. Their help has made possible a total of over $100,000,000,000 in bond sales to non-bank investors since May, 1941. The Treasury department and the nation are truly grateful for the contribution and sustained support that newspapers are giving our vital war bond campaigns."

Says Appeals Slow U. S. Court Action

Harrisburg, Oct. 2 (AP)—Tom C. Clark, assistant U. S. attorney general, said that appeals and motions brought by some of those indicted in the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot case must be disposed of in the higher courts before trials are held.

Clark, who presented the case to a federal grand jury here two years ago when a dozen indictments against civilians were returned, made the statement in response to a reporter's inquiry while the federal official was here over the weekend to attend a Democratic political rally.

At the same time Clark said he had not received an open letter from U. S. Commissioner Sidney E. Friedman said he had sent Clark concerning the case.

Hanover Men Are Robbed In Baltimore

Baltimore, Oct. 2 (AP)—Two Hanover, Pa., men reported to Baltimore police today the loss of $2,200 in cash from their automobile.

Police said John H. Hayes and his partner, Woodrow Blase, operators of the Tri-State Motor company, related that they left a black zipper case containing the money in a glove compartment while they went into a tavern. The loss was discovered upon their return to Hanover.

Need Free Press To Assure Peace

Harrisburg, Oct. 3 (AP)—Floyd Chalfant, publisher of the Waynesboro Record-Herald and State Secretary of Commerce, today called for Pennsylvania newspapers to render an account to the people on how well the press "has acquitted itself as the guardian of the people's right" for a free press.

Chalfant, who is past president of the Pennsylvania Newspapers Association, and also past president of the Associated Press, said in a statement issued in the observance of National Newspaper Week:

"If the world is to be led into a new era of peace, justice and understanding then it must have, in the vanguard of those agencies working to this end, a free and fearless press."

SEES TOUGH TASK AHEAD IN GERMANY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
The American First Army's heavy and thus far successful attack in the Aachen sector may well be a preliminary to the all-out offensive for the German frontier defenses, but a tough task lies ahead of the Allies and we shall do well to note General Eisenhower's caution to correspondents yesterday not to count too immediately on a break through the Siegfried line.

As a matter of fact it may not fall to Lt. Gen. Hodges' Army at all to be the first to crash past Hitler's border defenses. As pointed out in this column yesterday, one would expect Eisenhower to stage a series of big attacks along the entire 460-mile front, and it may be that the break will be made in some other sector.

The westwall in the Aachen zone presents a formidable barrier, and the mighty Rhine may be even more difficult since this swiftly moving river varies in width from a quarter to a third of a mile in the Cologne zone beyond Aachen. Should the Germans destroy the great bridges at Cologne and at neighboring cities it would give the Allied engineers something to sweat over.

Race Against Time
Hitler has massed much strength in this strategic sector in anticipation of the attack which now has been launched. If this were the only battle he had to fight in the coming offensive he might hope to stand off the enemy for a considerable time.

Eisenhower is confronted, as I see it, with two interlocking problems—logistics and the rapidly approaching winter weather. The logistics relate to the maintenance of adequate supplies in view of the Allied shortage of sea port facilities. The demands for a wholesale offensive are mountainous. Moreover, the Allied communications in France now are greatly extended, adding to the difficulties.

The Allies have been racing against time to get set for the all-out push while the weather still holds good. Just what stage of preparation they have achieved isn't apparent, but the Germans certainly anticipate a swelling of the attack in the immediate future.

"Have Hitler On Toast"

Hitler's troubles will multiply rapidly when the Allies launch big drives at other strategic points in the line, because he has no reserves to meet so many commitments. If he weakens any point under attack by withdrawing troops for use elsewhere, then General Ike will hurl fresh strength against the weakened spot.

Thus while the Allies have a hard fight ahead of them they actually have Hitler on toast, since ultimately he must give way to this pressure. His forces on the western front are outnumbered at least three to one, and many of his "reserves" have been recruited from men who are unfit for active service. That's outside the fact that the Allies have overwhelming superiority in the air and in other equipment of all categories.

We are entitled to hope that the imminent conclusion of the important Baltic campaign will release large numbers of Red troops for use against the German Vistula line where the Hitlerites have been holding strongly. Increased pressure on Warsaw and at other points in this powerful front would complement the coming offensive in the west.

WAR FUND UNIT TO DINE MONDAY

Members of the Gettysburg college National War Fund drive committee will hold a dinner meeting Monday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock to organize the subscription campaign for the coming year.

Approximately forty-five members, including one representative from each living group on the campus and three faculty representatives, are expected to attend. Milton E. Raup, of Harrisburg, is general chairman of the campus committee. He has based his program on a personal contact campaign, having one canvasser for every 10 persons on the campus. The college goal for this year is $1,700, the same total as was subscribed last winter.

Miss Judith Austin, of New York city, a representative of the World Student Service Fund, will speak at the dinner. Faculty members scheduled to attend are Dean Wilbur E. Tilberg, Dr. William F. Quillan and Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, college chaplain.

The student members of the committee, in addition to Raup, include Miss Nancy Irie, canvassing chairman, and Miss Joyce Weibley, Miss Jean Frances, Miss Joy Nelson, Miss Frances Bantley and Kenneth Sentz.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—Charles Weissberg, 41, who won the title of "most brilliant collegeman in America" when he was a sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania in 1923, was held in $1,000 bail today on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

THANKS PRESS FOR SUPPORTING 5 BOND DRIVES

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—A testimonial to "the amazing support newspapers have given the five war loan drives" has been made public by Ted R. Gamble, director of the War Finance division of the Treasury department.

Gamble said in a statement to Chairman F. E. Tripp of the Allied Newspaper Council:

"On this, National Newspaper Week, I would like to express the gratitude of the Treasury for the amazing support newspapers have given the five war loan drives. In the last four drives alone the daily and weekly newspapers published a total of 589,623 separate war bond advertisements with a value of $31,213,760.

"A total of over $77,000,000 in newspaper advertising has been devoted to the sale of war bonds since May, 1941.

"In addition, newspapers contributed 168,244,463 lines of news and editorial space to promote the last four drives.

"Our compliments go not only to the newspapers but the thousands of business organizations and individuals that have answered the Treasury's urgent call to sponsor this vital advertising.

"America owes a debt of gratitude to newspapers for their loyal and patriotic support of this vital war financing program. Their help has made possible a total of over $100,000,000 in bond sales to non-bank investors since May, 1941. The Treasury department and the nation are truly grateful for the contribution and sustained support that newspapers are giving our vital war bond campaigns."

Says Appeals Slow U. S. Court Action

Harrisburg, Oct. 2 (AP)—Tom C. Clark, assistant U. S. attorney general, said that appeals and motions brought by some of those indicted in the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot case must be disposed of in the higher courts before trials are held.

Clark, who presented the case to a federal grand jury here two years ago when a dozen indictments against civilians were returned, made the statement in response to a reporter's inquiry while the federal official was here over the weekend to attend a Democratic political rally.

At the same time Clark said he had not received an open letter from former U. S. Commissioner Sidney E. Friedman said he had sent Clark concerning the case.

SEES TOUGH TASK AHEAD IN GERMANY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
The American First Army's heavy and thus far successful attack in the Aachen sector may well be a preliminary to the all-out offensive for the German frontier defenses, but a tough task lies ahead of the Allies and we shall do well to note General Eisenhower's caution to correspondents yesterday not to count too immediately on a break through the Siegfried line.
As a matter of fact it may not fall to Lt. Gen. Hodges' Army at all to be the first to crash past Hitler's border defenses. As pointed out in this column yesterday, one would expect Eisenhower to stage a series of big attacks along the entire 460-mile front, and it may be that the break will be made in some other sector.
The westwall in the Aachen zone presents a formidable barrier, and the mighty Rhine may be even more difficult since this swiftly moving river varies in width from a quarter to a third of a mile in the Cologne zone beyond Aachen. Should the Germans destroy the great bridges at Cologne and at neighboring cities it would give the Allied engineers something to sweat over.

Race Against Time
Hitler has massed much strength in this strategic sector in anticipation of the attack which now has been launched. If this were the only battle he had to fight in the coming offensive he might hope to stand off the enemy for a considerable time.

Eisenhower is confronted, as I see it, with two interlocking problems—logistics and the rapidly approaching winter weather. The logistics relate to the maintenance of adequate supplies in view of the Allied shortage of sea port facilities. The demands for a wholesale offensive are mountainous. Moreover, the Allied communications in France now are greatly extended, adding to the difficulties.

The Allies have been racing against time to get set for the all-out push while the weather still holds good. Just what stage of preparation they have achieved isn't apparent, but the Germans certainly anticipate a swelling of the attack in the immediate future.

"Have Hitler On Toast"
Hitler's troubles will multiply rapidly when the Allies launch big drives at other strategic points in the line, because he has no reserves to meet so many commitments. If he weakens any point under attack by withdrawing troops for use elsewhere, then General Ike will hurl fresh strength against the weakened spot.

Thus while the Allies have a hard fight ahead of them they actually have Hitler on toast, since ultimately he must give way to this pressure. His forces on the western front are outnumbered at "least" three to one, and many of his "reserves" have been recruited from men who are unfit for active service. That's outside the fact that the Allies have overwhelming superiority in the air and in other equipment of all categories.

We are entitled to hope that the imminent conclusion of the important Baltic campaign will release large numbers of Red troops for use against the German Vistula line where the Hitlerites have been holding strongly. Increased pressure on Warsaw and at other points in this powerful front would complement the coming offensive in the west.

WAR FUND UNIT TO DINE MONDAY

Members of the Gettysburg college National War Fund drive committee will hold a dinner meeting Monday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock to organize the subscription campaign for the coming year.
Approximately forty-five members, including one representative from each living group on the campus and three faculty representatives, are expected to attend. Milton E. Raup, of Harrisburg, is general chairman of the campus committee.
He has based his program on a personal contact campaign, having one canvasser for every 10 persons on the campus. The college goal for this year is $1,700, the same total as was subscribed last winter.
Miss Judith Austin, of New York city, a representative of the World Student Service Fund, will speak at the dinner. Faculty members scheduled to attend are Dean Wilbur E. Tilberg, Dr. William F. Quillian and Prof. Parker B. Wasmid, college chaplain.
The student members of the committee, in addition to Raup, include Miss Nancy Irie, canvassing chairman, and Miss Joyce Weibley, Miss Jean Mayer, Miss Joy Nelson, Miss Frances Bantley and Kenneth Senft.

St. Louis, Oct. 3 (AP)—Twenty-five hungry Browns who never cashed a world series check and 22 Cardinals who've won three successive national league pennants today split this bulging old river city wide open on the eve of the first all-St. Louis world series.

Street car operators, bell hops and bartenders chewed your ear with retales of Chet Laabs' two pennant-winning homers and Sig Jakucki was boomed for "mayor," but the boys who say it with cash made the national leaguers 1 to 2 favorites for the best four-out-of-seven series opening tomorrow at Sportsman's park.

Rainy weather took away some of the enthusiasm yesterday as Billy Southworth and his boys came home for the first time since clinching the flag to be greeted only by their wives, children and ticket-hunting relatives. The town, however, buzzed with baseball talk and both clubs reported a complete sellout of reserved seats. Mayor Kaufman issued a proclamation designating this as "Baseball Week."

Expect 35,000

At least 35,000 fans are expected to turn out for the opener with the weatherman promising "fair and cooler."

Luke Sewell had his Brownies out for a short drill between the rain drops yesterday and planned a lengthy dress rehearsal this morning with the National leaguers taking the field in the afternoon.

Neither manager has named his first game starter but Mort Cooper (22-7) appears to be the natural for the Cardinals. Nelson Potter is the likely Browns pitcher with his 19-7 record and his highly-trained screw ball.

For the first time since 1922 when the Yankees and Giants met in the Polo grounds all the series games are scheduled for the same park, eliminating all conjecture on the advantage of playing in familiar surroundings.

Landis in Chicago

For the first time since Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis took charge of baseball in 1920, the white-haired czar will miss the classic, remaining in Chicago under doctor orders.

The commissioner, who will be 72 in November, is in a Chicago hospital where his condition is described as "very satisfactory."

He will be represented at the series by Ford Frick, president of the National league, William Harridge, president of the American league, and Leslie M. O'Connor, his secretary.

SPORT SHORTS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have agreed to slice their second-place share of the world series monies into 31 parts. Groundkeeper John Fogarty was voted a half share. Quarter-shares were apportioned to John Hallahan, the clubhouse boy, and George Wahal, the batboy.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—The all-civilian Pitt Panthers will find three of their former players opposing them when they line up Saturday in Pitt Stadium against the Bethany college Bisons, whose ranks include Navy men. The ex-Panthers are Quarterbacks Joe Mocha and Don Owen and half back Cy Plazak. Last year Pitt beat the Bisons 18-0.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—Military training in high schools is advocated by John B. (Jack) Kelly, national director of physical fitness and 1920 Olympic single sculling champion.

"I think some cadet training in the lower schools, close order drill, a little strategy, a general emphasis on good health, would help us prevent a repetition of 1941 when we found 50 per cent of the first 2-600,000 men called up were unfit for military service," he said in a speech last night.

Series Tickets Scrapped By Tigers

Detroit, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers may have lost the American league pennant, but they've found a taker for their 1944 world series tickets.

If the club gets permission for such disposal from the internal revenue office and assurance that the tickets will be ground up, about two tons of them will go to the Wayne county waste-paper salvage committee.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Although there are five two-club cities in the major leagues, St. Louis is only the third to stage a world series entirely within its confines. . . . This series also will be the first since 1922 to be played all in one park. . . . New York had two like that before the Yankees moved into the Stadium, but back in 1905 Chicago's Cubs and White Sox were virtual strangers from opposite ends of town. . . . Penn State's 53-13 football victory over Muhlenberg Saturday launched the Nittany Lions' 53rd season of intercollegiate competition. It will be tough on the opposition when they get to be 100. . . . After looking at the movies of Clemon's 24-0 victory over Presbyterian, Coach Frank Howard of Clemonson told one of his first-string guards: "You owe me $120 for that midfield seat you had Saturday." . . . Wonder how much he expects to collect after that 51-0 trouncing the Tigers took from Georgia Tech?

BRICKER BIDS FOR KENTUCKY

En Route With Bricker, Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker, asserting that he was encouraged by events in Kentucky, turned back to that state today before carrying his campaign for the vice presidency into Illinois.

Speeches from the rear platform of the Republican candidate's six-car special train were scheduled in Hopkinsville, Madisonville and Henderson, supplementing yesterday's appearance in Bowling Green.

Last night he invaded Democratic Tennessee with a speech at Nashville in which he declared that the number of Federal employees had grown from 580,000 under the present administration to "the staggering total of almost 3 1/2 million."

Departing from his text at Bowling Green, the Ohio Governor several times remarked he was happy that Kentucky, in the traditionally Democratic south, now had a Republican Governor and had elected a second Republican Congressman last year.

Bricker has 11 electoral votes which Bricker and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican Presidential nominee, need in order to be elected. The Republicans last carried Kentucky in the 1928 election.

Dr. Crampton Gets GOP Campaign Post

Harrisburg, Oct. 3 (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Charles H. Crampton, as chairman of the Negro division of the Dewey-Bricker campaign committee, was announced today by M. Harvey Taylor, state Republican chairman.

Taylor said that headquarters had been established "for an intensive statewide drive in support of the Republican ticket" with Magistrate Hobson R. Reynolds in charge of the Philadelphia area, and Walker R. Rainey directing the campaign in Pittsburgh.

Calling attention to the October 7 deadline for registration of voters except in Philadelphia, Taylor said that "all over the state independents and old line Democrats are joining forces with us to protest against continued detachment of Federal government."

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Allied Air offensive rolled up today with bombers, again reported over the Reich after RAF Mosquitos last night carried out one of their best moonlight train-busting forays in Germany and Holland.

Besides shooting up 51 freight trains, nine barges and five motor transports the Mosquitos also ran a Nazi tanker ashore off the Dutch coast and bombed a small factory in western Germany. Not one of the fleet bombers was lost.

Other small forces of Mosquitos attacked Brunswick and Nazi airfields in western Germany, following up the daylight attack in which more than 2,500 Allied planes roamed the sky over the Reich virtually unchallenged.

Most of the train-smashing was in the Ruhr Valley, through which the bulk of supplies are fed to the German army at the front. Eight trains were caught on the main line between Emmerich and Gladbach four north of Coblenz and seven near Osnabruck.

Ninth air force medium bombers and fighters, which staggered German defenses along the Siegfried line yesterday as a curtain-raiser to the first Army drive near Aachen, continued their close-support activities today.

Cites Regulation On Tenant Eviction

Landlords are not permitted to evict tenants without notifying the OPA Area Rent office of grounds for such eviction. W. C. Young, acting director of the Harrisburg District of Price Administration said today. He reminded both landlords and tenants that the provisions of OPA regulations relating to eviction of tenants do not allow a tenant to be evicted solely because his lease has expired.

Mr. Young stated, "Many tenants who have been served with removal notices by their landlords are not aware of the protection to which they are entitled. A landlord may not require a tenant to vacate his dwelling merely because the lease is expiring. If the landlord refuses to renew a lease, the tenant may occupy the housing accommodations and, generally, may not be evicted so long as he continues to pay the maximum legal rent and otherwise takes reasonable care of the premises."

"However, there are grounds under which a landlord may evict a tenant. These include the tenant's refusal to renew a lease under the same terms and conditions as the lease in effect on the maximum rent date, as well as the tenant's refusal of access to the landlord where such access is not prohibited by the terms of the lease. Violating any substantial obligation of the tenant or committing a nuisance is also ground for eviction."

Mickey Rooney Is Back In Camp Today

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 3 (AP)—It was back to camp today for Army Pvt. Mickey Rooney after a week-end honeymoon here with his 17-year-old bride, "Miss Birmingham" of 1944, whom he married Saturday afternoon following a six-day courtship.

The diminutive film actor, one of the movie industry's highest salaried stars, wed the former Betty Jane Rase while on pass from Camp Sibert, Alabama.

Miss Rase placed fifth in the recent "Miss America" beauty pageant at Atlantic City, but Rooney said after the wedding there was to be "no career for my wife."

Rooney, 21, was previously married to actress Ava Gardner on January 10, 1942, and divorced in September, 1943.

CONGRESSIONAL MAILING ABUSES BEING PROBED

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The reported use of the congressional free mailing privileges for political purposes came today under the surveillance of the House Committee investigating campaign expenditures.

Committee Chairman Anderson (D-NM) told newspapermen he had received reports that the franking (free postage) privilege of 13 house members and one senator had been used to mail 3,116,000 copies of one political speech, at government expense. He did not identify the speech.

Moreover, he said one House member was reported to have obtained 1,212,000 franked cards in a single day.

Anderson did not disclose the names of members involved, but said a full report would be filed in the record of his committee. Mailing of the 3,116,000 copies of the speech, he said, would have cost almost $59,000, at a rate of 1 1/2 cents each.

The committee, meanwhile turned its attention to Gerald L. K. Smith, leader of the America First party. Anderson said "we plan to ask him some direct questions about whether various persons contributed to his group."

OPA Brings Suit For Treble Damages

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—Charles D. Sparkman of Clearfield is named defendant in a suit for treble damages filed in federal court by the Office of Price Administration, which charges Sparkman sold commercial vehicles in excess of ceiling prices.

The complaint said the overcharges were $148, and asked three times that amount as damages.

PROPER FEEDING OF UNDERFERD IN U. S. IS STUDIED

Harrisburg, Oct. 3 (AP)—Proper feeding of America's five million underfed people would provide the greatest possible outlet for agricultural food products in the postwar period, Wesley S. Middaugh of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics here said today.

Appearing before the two-day conference of the county Agricultural Adjustment Agency committee Middaugh said "adequate diet for those families whose income is less than $1,500 a year would consume all the food now produced on American farms and require 8,000,000 additional acres."

His talk came during a discussion of the 1945 agricultural conservation program with farmer representatives seeking a method of adjusting their crops to meet conditions that will exist when the Army is demobilized and conversion of industry to consumer goods is completed.

Speeches Scheduled Oris V. Wells, agricultural economist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, told the group that three methods of solving the postwar problems faced the country.

Wells said "we can allow prices or production to go free and seek their own level, we can support farm prices and maintain demands for all that farmers produce, or we can assume that in the postwar era the demand for food will decrease."

Col. John McI. Smith, deputy director of state Selective Service, and Capt. Howard Watts, chief of the agricultural division of Selective Service, are scheduled to talk on manpower problems.

The conference will close today following a final summation by George W. Schuler, vice chairman of the state AAA committee from Fleetwood, Berks county.

Court-Packing Is Charged By Graff

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—"Every American should be concerned over the New Deal's attempt to lay violent hands upon the independence and integrity of the federal judiciary," Judge J. Frank Graff of Armstrong county said in a radio address last night.

Judge Graff, Republican candidate for Superior court, declared in a speech released by Republican state headquarters:

"No thoughtful person can be indifferent to this menace to free government. x x x The New Deal's attempt to pack the United States Supreme Court with judges sympathetic to President Roosevelt's social philosophy is known to every American."

CARDS RATE AS 2-1 FAVORITE TO TAKE TITLE

By JACK HAND

St. Louis, Oct. 3 (AP)—Twenty-five hungry Browns who never cashed a world series check and 22 Cardinals who've won three successive national league pennants today split this bulging old river city wide open on the eve of the first all-St. Louis world series.

Street car operators, bell hops and bartenders chewed your ear with retakes of Chet Laabs' two pennant-winning homers and Sig Jakucki was boomed for "mayor," but the boys who say it with cash made the national leaguers 1 to 2 favorites for the best four-out-of-seven series opening tomorrow at Sportsman's park.

Rainy weather took away some of the enthusiasm yesterday as Billy Southworth and his boys came home for the first time since clinching the flag to be greeted only by their wives, children and ticket-hunting relatives. The town, however, buzzed with baseball talk and both clubs reported a complete sellout of reserved seats. Mayor Kaufman issued a proclamation designating this as "Baseball Week."

Expect 35,000

At least 35,000 fans are expected to turn out for the opener with the weatherman promising "fair and cooler."

Luke Sewell had his Browns out for a short drill between the rain drops yesterday and planned a lengthy dress rehearsal this morning with the National leaguers taking the field in the afternoon.

Neither manager has named his first game starter but Mort Cooper (22-7) appears to be the natural for the Cardinals. Nelson Potter is the likely Brownie pitcher with his 19-7 record and his highly-trained screw ball.

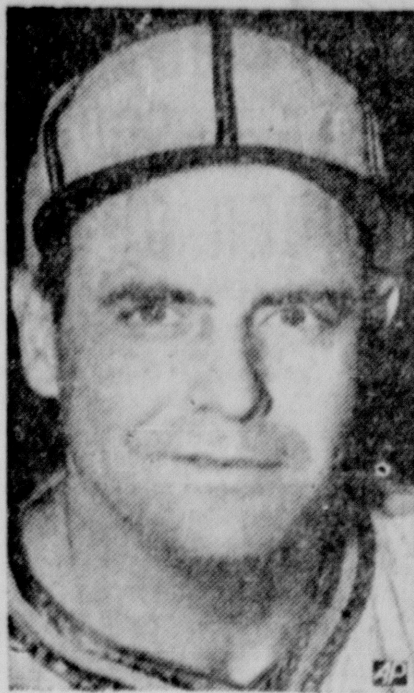

For the first time since 1922 when the Yankees and Giants met in the Polo grounds all the series games are scheduled for the same park, eliminating all conjecture on the advantage of playing in familiar surroundings.

Landis In Chicago
For the first time since Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis took charge of baseball in 1920, the white-haired czar will miss the classic, remaining in Chicago under doctor orders.

The commissioner, who will be 78 in November, is in a Chicago hospital where his condition is described as "very satisfactory."

He will be represented at the series by Ford Frick, president of the National league; William Harridge, president of the American league; and Leslie M. O'Conner, his secretary.

Emmitsburg—Captain Milton B. Christ, chaplain, writes from somewhere in France to his former parishioners of the Emmitsburg Methodist church:

"I have been trying to write to you folks for sometime. This is a foggy damp morning, and I am having trouble with my writing material which is not always the proper kind for outdoor work, but I trust that you will be patient with me and finally will be able to interpret the full meaning of the letter."

"I like France as much as I did England. The people here are treating us fine, and while we find it very difficult to be in a situation, where nearly all the people do not understand us when we say 'Hello,' still the soldiers are making friends and everybody seems to be happy and overjoyed that the Americans have again come to their country. When you learn what these people have been through, you wonder that they can ever smile again, but they are the happiest people I have ever been among. The children are the cutest, and they make friends with us immediately. Most of them have not tasted chocolate for four years, and I have given some to children who did not know what to do with it."

"Sunday is a regular circus around our camps. The people flock out by the hundreds, especially in the country, where our headquarters are located, they come in numbers every day, and in droves on Sundays. You can hardly keep them out, and they rummage through the kitchens, through the men's tents, and everywhere. As yet nothing has been stolen, so they are just looking. The other Sunday while I was holding service they gathered around and jabbered, until I had to ask them to keep quiet. They thought the little organ we take with us, something wonderful."

"Everyone waves at you, and I have almost worn out my arm waving to people along the road. Yesterday (Sunday) in going to one of my groups I used all back dirt roads, where some of the villagers had never seen any Yanks, and if you stopped at the crossroads to look at the map, there would be 100 children around you in three minutes, all wanting to shake hands."

"I often think of home and the people back there, for no matter how much we may enjoy it here, we are always homesick, and wanting to get home. I wonder how the churches are doing, and once in a while think I would like to sit down to a chicken dinner or a butchering dinner with some of my friends out Toms Creek way. Guess all the children will be grown by the time I get back, I will hardly know them (including, or especially my own). Remember me to any of the folks who might be interested in hearing from me."

"I had a letter from Mary Gene Matthews the other day which was very much appreciated, and which gave much church news to me. I would like to hear from the people of the churches where I preached, Toms Creek, Thurmont and from Emmitsburg. And, the boys in the army and in fact in all the services are in need of letters from mother, dad and others of the family. I feel sure that you are writing but maybe would write more if you knew just what the letters mean to them when away from home under these conditions. I guess that Emmitsburg is well represented in all parts of the World—men fighting on all fronts."

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Allied Air offensive rolled up today with bombers again reported over the Reich after RAF Mosquitos last night carried out one of their best moonlight train-busting forays in Germany and Holland.

Besides shooting up 51 freight trains, nine barges and five motor transports the Mosquitos also ran a Nazi trawler ashore off the Dutch coast and bombed a small factory in western Germany. Not one of the fleet bombers was lost.

Other small forces of Mosquitos attacked Brunswick and Nazi airfields in western Germany, following up the daylight attack in which more than 2,500 Allied planes roamed the sky over the Reich virtually unchallenged.

Most of the train-smashing was in the Ruhr Valley, through which the bulk of supplies are fed to the German army at the front. Eight trains were caught on the main line between Emmerich and Gladbach four north of Coblenz and seven near Osnabruck.

Ninth air force medium bombers and fighters, which staggered German defenses along the Siegfried line yesterday as a curtain-raiser to the first Army drive near Aachen, continued their close-support activities today.

Cites Regulation On Tenant Eviction

Landlords are not permitted to evict tenants without notifying the OPA Area Rent office of grounds for such eviction, W. C. Young, acting director of the Harrisburg District of Price Administration said today. He reminded both landlords and tenants that the provisions of OPA regulations relating to eviction of tenants do not allow a tenant to be evicted solely because his lease has expired.

Mr. Young stated, "Many tenants who have been served with removal notices by their landlords are not aware of the protection to which they are entitled. A landlord may not require a tenant to vacate his dwelling merely because the lease is expiring. If the landlord refuses to renew a lease, the tenant may occupy the housing accommodations and, generally, may not be evicted so long as he continues to pay the maximum legal rent and otherwise takes reasonable care of the premises."

"However, there are grounds under which a landlord may evict a tenant. These include the tenant's refusal to renew a lease under the same terms and conditions as the lease in effect on the maximum rent date, as well as the tenant's refusal of access to the landlord where such access is not prohibited by the terms of the lease. Violating any substantial obligation of the tenant or committing a nuisance is also ground for eviction."

Mickey Rooney Is Back In Camp Today

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 3 (AP)—It was back to camp today for Army Pvt. Mickey Rooney after a week-end honeymoon here with his 17-year-old bride, "Miss Birmingham" of 1944, whom he married Saturday afternoon following a six-day courtship.

The diminutive film actor, one of the movie industry's highest salaried stars, wed the former Betty Jane Rase while on pass from Camp Sibert, Alabama.

Miss Rase placed fifth in the recent "Miss America" beauty pageant at Atlantic City, but Rooney said after the wedding there was to be "no career for my wife."

Rooney, 21, was previously married to actress Ava Gardner on January 10, 1942, and divorced in September, 1943.

CONGRESSIONAL MAILING ABUSES BEING PROBED

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The reported use of the congressional free mailing privileges for political purposes came today under the surveillance of the House Committee investigating campaign expenditures.

Committee Chairman Anderson (D-NM) told newspapermen he had received reports that the franking (free postage) privilege of 13 house members and one senator had been used to mail 3,116,000 copies of one political speech, at government expense. He did not identify the speech.

Moreover, he said one House member was reported to have obtained 1,212,000 franked cards in a single day.

Anderson did not disclose the names of members involved, but said a full report would be filed in the record of his committee. Mailing of the 3,116,000 copies of the speech, he said, would have cost almost $50,000, at a rate of 1½ cents each.

The committee, meanwhile turned its attention to Gerald L. K. Smith, leader of the America First party. Anderson said "we plan to ask him some direct questions about whether various persons contributed to his group."

OPA Brings Suit For Treble Damages

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—Charles D. Sparkman of Clearfield is named defendant in a suit for treble damages filed in federal court by the Office of Price Administration, which charges Sparkman sold commercial vehicles in excess of ceiling prices.

The complaint said the overcharges were $148, and asked three times that amount as damages.

PROPER FEEDING OF UNDERFERD IN U. S. IS STUDIED

Harrisburg, Oct. 3 (AP)—Proper feeding of America's five million underfed people would provide the greatest possible outlet for agricultural food products in the postwar period, Wesley S. Middaugh of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics here said today.

Appearing before the two-day conference of the county Agricultural Adjustment Agency committeemen Middaugh said "adequate diet for those families whose income is less than $1,500 a year would consume all the food now produced on American farms and require 8,000,000 additional acres."

His talk came during a discussion of the 1945 agricultural conservation program with farmer representatives seeking a method of adjusting their crops to meet conditions that will exist when the Army is demobilized and conversion of industry to consumer goods is completed.

Speeches Scheduled
Oris V. Wells, agricultural economist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, told the group that three methods of solving the post-war problems faced the country.

Wells said "we can allow prices or production to go free and seek their own level, we can support farm prices and maintain demands for all that farmers produce, or we can assume that in the postwar era the demand for food will decrease."

Col. John McEl Smith, deputy director of state Selective Service, and Capt. Howard Watts, chief of the agricultural division of Selective Service, are scheduled to talk on manpower problems.

The conference will close today following a final summarization by George W. Schuler, vice chairman of the state AAA committee from Fleetwood, Berks county.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—"Every American should be concerned over the New Deal's attempt to lay violent hands upon the independence and integrity of the federal judiciary," Judge J. Frank Graff of Armstrong county said in a radio address last night.

CARDS RATE AS 2-1 FAVORITE TO TAKE TITLE

By JACK HAND

St. Louis, Oct. 3 (AP)—Twenty-five hungry Browns who never cashed a world series check and 22 Cardinals who've won three successive national league pennants today split this bulging old river city wide open on the eve of the first all-St. Louis world series.

Street car operators, bell hops and bartenders chewed your ear with retakes of Chet Laabs' two pennant-winning homers and Sig Jakucki was boomed for "mayor," but the boys who say it with cash made the national leaguers 1 to 2 favorites for the best four-out-of-seven series opening tomorrow at Sportsman's park.

Rainy weather took away some of the enthusiasm yesterday as Billy Southworth and his boys came home for the first time since clinching the flag to be greeted only by their wives, children and ticket-hunting relatives. The town, however, buzzed with baseball talk and both clubs reported a complete sellout of reserved seats. Mayor Kaufman issued a proclamation designating this as "Baseball Week."

Expect 35,000

At least 35,000 fans are expected to turn out for the opener with the weatherman promising "fair and cooler."

Luke Sewell had his Brownies out for a short drill between the rain drops yesterday and planned a lengthy dress rehearsal this morning with the National leaguers taking the field in the afternoon.

Neither manager has named his first game starter but Mort Cooper (22-7) appears to be the natural for the Cardinals. Nelson Potter is the likely Brownie pitcher with his 19-7 record and his highly-trained screw ball.

For the first time since 1922 when the Yankees and Giants met in the Polo grounds all the series games are scheduled for the same park, eliminating all conjecture on the advantage of playing in familiar surroundings.

Landis In Chicago

For the first time since Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis took charge of baseball in 1920, the white-haired czar will miss the classic, remaining in Chicago under doctor orders.

The commissioner, who will be 78 in November, is in a Chicago hospital where his condition is described as "very satisfactory."

He will be represented at the series by Ford Frick, president of the National league; William Harridge, president of the American league; and Leslie M. O'Connor, his secretary.

SPORT SHORTS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have agreed to slice their second-place share of the world series monies into 31 parts. Groundkeeper John Fogarty was voted a half share. Quarter-shares were apportioned to John Hallahan, the clubhouse boy, and George Wahal, the batboy.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—The all-civilian Pitt Panthers will find three of their former players opposing them when they line up Saturday in Pitt Stadium against the Bethany college Bisons, whose ranks include Navy men. The ex-Panthers are Quarterbacks Joe Mocha and Don Owen and half back Cy Plazak. Last year Pitt beat the Bisons 18-0.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—Military training in high schools is advocated by John B. (Jack) Kelly, national director of physical fitness and 1920 Olympic single sculling champion.

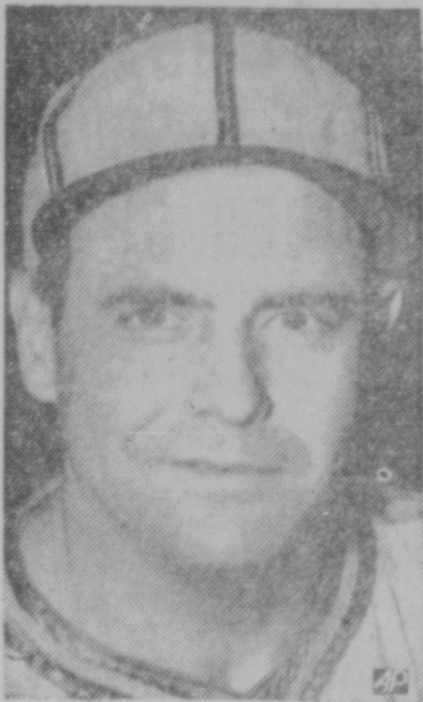

"I think some cadet training in the lower schools, close order drill, a little strategy, a general emphasis on good health, would help us prevent a repetition of 1941 when we found 50 per cent of the first 2,000,000 men called up were unfit for military service," he said in a speech last night.

The Braille alphabet was named after Louis Braille, born near Paris in 1800.

Detroit, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers may have lost the American league pennant, but they've found a taker for their 1944 world series tickets.

If the club gets permission for such disposal from the internal revenue office and assurance that the tickets will be ground up, about two tons of them will go to the Wayne county wastepaper salvage committee.

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Although there are five two-club cities in the major leagues, St. Louis is only the third to stage a world series entirely within its confines. . . . This series also will be the first since 1922 to be played all in one park. . . . New York had two like that before the Yankees moved into the Stadium, but back in 1906 Chicago's Cubs and White Sox were virtual strangers from opposite ends of town. . . . Penn State's 58-13 football victory over Muhlenberg Saturday launched the Nittany Lions' 58th season of intercollegiate competition. It will be tough on the opposition when they get to be 100. . . . After looking at the movies of Clemon's 34-0 victory over Presbyterian, Coach Frank Howard of Clemon told one of his first-string guards: "You owe me $1.20 for that middle field seat you had Saturday." . . . Wonder how much he expects to collect after that 51-0 trimming the Tigers took from Georgia Tech?

BRICKER BIDS FOR KENTUCKY

En Route With Bricker, Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker, asserting that he was encouraged by events in Kentucky, turned back to that state today before carrying his campaign for the vice presidency into Illinois.

Speeches from the rear platform of the Republican candidate's six-car special train were scheduled in Hopkinsville, Madisonville and Henderson, supplementing yesterday's appearance in Bowling Green.

Last night he invaded Democratic Tennessee with a speech at Nashville in which he declared that the number of Federal employees had grown from 560,000 under the present administration to "the staggering total of almost 3½ million."

Departing from his text at Bowling Green, the Ohio Governor several times remarked he was happy that Kentucky, in the traditionally Democratic south, now had a Republican Governor and had elected a second Republican Congressman last year.

Kentucky has 11 electoral votes which Bricker and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican Presidential nominee, need in order to be elected. The Republicans last carried Kentucky in the 1928 election.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg.—Captain Milton B. Christ, chaplain, writes from somewhere in France to his former parishioners of the Emmitsburg Methodist church:

"I have been trying to write to you folks for sometime. This is a foggy damp morning, and I am having trouble with my writing material which is not always the proper kind for outdoor work, but I trust that you will be patient with me and finally will be able to interpret the full meaning of the letter."

"I like France as much as I did England. The people here are treating us fine, and while we find it very difficult to be in a situation, where nearly all the people do not understand us when we say 'Hello,' still the soldiers are making friends and everybody seems to be happy and overjoyed that the Americans have again come to their country. When you learn what these people have been through, you wonder that they can ever smile again, but they are the happiest people I have ever been among. The children are the cutest, and they make friends with us immediately. Most of them have not tasted chocolate for four years, and I have given some to children who did not know what to do with it."

"Sunday is a regular circus around our camps. The people flock out by the hundreds, especially in the country, where our headquarters are located, they come in numbers every day, and in droves on Sundays. You can hardly keep them out, and they rummage through the kitchens, through the men's tents, and everywhere. As yet nothing has been stolen, so they are just looking. The other Sunday while I was holding service they gathered around and jabbered, until I had to ask them to keep quiet. They thought the little organ we take with us, something wonderful."

"Everyone waves at you, and I have almost worn out my arm waving to people along the road. Yesterday (Sunday) in going to one of my groups I used all back, dirt roads, where some of the villagers had never seen any Yanks, and if you stopped at the crossroads to look at the map, there would be 100 children around you in three minutes, all wanting to shake hands."

"I often think of home and the people back there, for no matter how much we may enjoy it here, we are always homesick, and wanting to get home. I wonder how the churches are doing, and once in a while think I would like to sit down to a chicken dinner or a butchering dinner with some of my friends out Toms Creek way. Guess all the children will be grown by the time I get back. I will hardly know them (including, or especially my own). Remember me to any of the folks who might be interested in hearing from me."

"I had a letter from Mary Gene Matthews the other day which was very much appreciated, and which gave much cheer news to me. I would like to hear from the people of the churches where I preached, Toms Creek, Thurmont and from Emmitsburg. And, the boys in the army and in fact in all the services are in need of letters from mother, dad and others of the family. I feel sure that you are writing but maybe you'd write more if you knew just what the letters mean to them when away from home under these conditions. I guess that Emmitsburg is well represented in all parts of the World—men fighting on all fronts."

Dr. Crampton Gets GOP Campaign Post

Harrisburg, Oct. 3 (AP)—Appointment of Dr. Charles H. Crampton, as chairman of the Dewey-Bricker campaign committee, was announced today by M. Harvey Taylor, state Republican chairman.

Taylor said that headquarters had been established "for an intensive statewide drive in support of the Republican ticket" with Magistrate Hobson R. Reynolds in charge of the Philadelphia area, and Walker R. Rainey directing the campaign in Pittsburgh.

Calling attention to the October 7 deadline for registration of voters except in Philadelphia; Taylor said that "all over the state independents and old line Democrats are joining forces with us to protest against continued debauchery of Federal government."

U. S. OFFICIALS WORRIED OVER WEAKENING OF ALLIED STATUS
By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—American officials are becoming mildly apprehensive lest there should be a general weakening of Allied cooperation—particularly in relations between Britain and Russia—as the European war concludes. The Polish situation is being studied in this light.
At the moment, the highest aim of American diplomacy may be described as designed to preserve this unity during the critical period now beginning, in which postwar economic and political policies must be formed throughout the European world.
On the shaping of these policies, it is believed, depends the ultimate success of whatever world peace league may be set up.
Serious Balkan Clash
The core of the diplomatic problem is regarded as being the mutual suspicions and misunderstandings which cloud the dealings between Russia and the rest of the world. Partly this is the expected result of conflicts of interest between Britain and America in the Balkans; partly the result of ignorance about how people inside and outside of Russia do things differently.
Much time was taken up in the Russian security talks with British and American delegates at Dumbarton Oaks here on questions of political and press freedom. The Russian delegations reportedly found it hard to understand how criticism of the government and all its operations could be published and spoken so freely.
By far the most serious clash of Anglo-Russian interests is in the Balkans because of Russia's westward expansion of influence and Britain's concern over the Turkish-Dardanelles flank of the empire life line to India. Probably less vital but more spectacular is the conflict over Poland.
Collaboration Difficult
At the moment when there was some hope among American diplomatic officials of an early settlement of Russo-Polish problems, the Soviet-sponsored Polish National committee attacked as "a criminal" General Tadeusz Komorowski ("General Bor"), new commander in chief of the forces of the Polish exiled government.
The exiled government has had the backing of Britain and the United States. Britain has been most active in seeking to bring it together with Russia.
The Polish issue is by no means the only such situation. Britain's reported insistence on holding Bulgarian armistice talks at Cairo; Russia's subsequent unexpected declaration of war on Bulgaria; the unhesitating election of British and American military missions from Bulgaria—even though there is some question whether they were properly in the country—all are considered incidents of the type which are beginning to tax to the limit those diplomats and officials whose primary objective is post-war collaboration of the victorious Allies.

TAXES WILL BE DEWEY TOPIC IN TONIGHT'S TALK
By JACK BELL
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey chose the important, but oratorically dull, subject of "taxes" for a broadcast tonight amid indications that he planned a hard-hitting attack on President Roosevelt and the New Deal in a climactic series of personal appearances before the November election.
The announcement that the Republican presidential nominee would talk at 8:45 p. m. tonight over the Mutual network from the executive mansion was followed by reports that he had an elastic schedule of major appearances in key cities between now and November 7th.
The New York Governor will invade the midwest again October 25 for a speech in Chicago, the late date possibly giving some indication of the importance which he attaches to Illinois' 28 electoral votes. He also may visit Detroit.
Dewey probably will go to Minneapolis October 26 for a speech in Minnesota, where the November results may have been made more doubtful by the announcement of Senator Joseph Ball, Republican, that he was not prepared to support his party's nominee at this time. Ball said he lacked necessary assurances that the New York Governor would engage in an all-out effort to help form an effective international security organization.
First Exclusive Radio Talk
There have been indications that Dewey would go into Missouri, the home state of Senator Harry S. Truman, the Democratic vice presidential nominee. Some unconfirmed reports said that plans had been made for a speech October 12 in St. Louis. Kansas City Republicans also have been bidding for an appearance there. Pittsburgh probably will be on the itinerary, for Pennsylvania is listed among the doubtful states.
Most Republican strategists have contended that Dewey should finish his drive in the industrial east and, because he expects to be in New York city on election night, November 7, to receive the returns, he probably will conclude his campaign on the Atlantic seaboard. Local officials already have announced he will be in Boston November 1.
Tonight's talk will be the first directed by Dewey exclusively to a

OPA THREATENS COURT ACTION
Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—Injunctions will be sought in Federal court, the office of price administration warned today, against licensed meat slaughterers charged with violating the price control act by failing to grade meats properly.
Nine wholesale dealers were cited in complaints filed by the OPA yesterday and before the end of October, OPA Attorney Samuel Chertoff said. 100 slaughterers will be named in injunctions charging they over-rated beef, veal, lamb and mutton.
The law requires Chertoff said, that federal men grade meat slaughtered commercially. When none are available slaughterers must obtain written permission to do their own grading but are not permitted to grade any meat above the "A" type.
The only way a retailer knows how to price his meat," Chertoff explained, "is by the grading stamp. When the grade stamped on a meat is higher than the actual quality of the meat, the grocer unsuspiciously passes the over-charge on to the housewife."

ARE HARVESTING MAKINGS OF TWO BILLION CIGARS
Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Lancaster county tobacco growers are harvesting the makings of almost 2,000,000,000 cigars.
Growing about 92 per cent of all tobacco produced in the state, this Pennsylvania Dutch area's 1944 yield is estimated by county farm agent Floyd S. Bucher at 48,250,000 pounds, which, he says:
"Should make about 40 cigars to the pound and relieve the current shortage by 1,848,000,000 smokes."
"A Good Crop"
Bucher also figures the crop value, based on last year's ceiling prices of 21 cents a pound for wrappers and seven cents for fillers, at $8,400,000.
Almost all of the county's tobacco goes into manufacture of cigars of reasonable price level, the larger portion being used for fillers and the rest for the "binders" or wrappers.
"It's a good crop," said Bucher, "estimates show we are getting about 1,400 pounds to the acre as compared to 1,350 pounds last year, an increase of some 5,000,000 pounds over 1943."

Arrest Pair For Shooting Trooper
Bedford, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—A posse captured two youths in the mountains here Sunday two hours after they are alleged to have wounded State Policeman Charles K. Pentz.
Pentz was driving along route 30, six miles east of Bedford when he stopped a speeding car in which the two youths were riding. When he began to question them, Pentz asserted, one pulled a pistol and fired; the two then sped away in their car, the trooper giving chase.
The pursuit led to a driveway at the city dump, where, Pentz said, the pair abandoned the car, waded across a stream and climbed Bookers' hill. Pentz, suffering loss of blood, drove to a hospital and other state policemen took up the chase, aided by citizens. They arrested the two in the mountains about two miles from the dump. The suspects gave their names as Peter Benjamin, known as William Sawchak, both of Pittsburgh.

Gets 6-12 Years In Mercer Co. Death
Mercer, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—William A. Morrell, strapping 21-year-old farm hand was sentenced Monday to a term of from six to 12 years in Western penitentiary in connection with the death of Mrs. Helen Wilson on a dairy farm here a year ago.
Judge George H. Rowley pronounced the penalty. The youth had been convicted on a charge of voluntary manslaughter.
Morrell heard the sentence calmly and made no comment.
Mrs. Wilson, 43, wife of farmer Everett Wilson, was one of three persons found dead on the farm last October 7. The other victims were Mrs. Catherine Wilson, 76, mother of Wilson, and Robert McKay, 70, a farm hand. Two of the victims had been killed with a shotgun and the younger Mrs. Wilson apparently strangled.
A jury in Mercer county court acquitted Morrell of murder charges in the case, and also acquitted his ex-streetheart, Blanche Janice Gramham, 21, at a separate trial.

Bricker Quotes Truman Committee
Bowling Green, Ky. Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio asserted Monday the Democratic's own nominee for vice president had said the Roosevelt administration was responsible for "inadequate over-all planning and delay in determining basic policies" of the war program.
The Republican candidate for vice president, opening a four-week western campaign that will carry him to the Pacific coast, quoted from speeches, writings and official reports which he said had been made by Senator Harry S. Truman, his Democratic opponent.
Yet, Bricker asserted in a prepared text released by his campaign staff, Senator Truman "now would have the American people believe that the welfare of this nation and its future, as well as the peace of the whole world, depend upon another four years of Roosevelt and the new deal."

Cause Of Pennsy Derailed Sought
Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania railroad officials sought today to determine the cause of the derailment of six cars of a westbound freight train a half mile east of here last night.
No one was injured, the railroad said, and only one of the four main line tracks was blocked, causing little delay in passenger traffic. The train was bound from Enola to Pottsville.

VETS GET PAY, FREE SCHOOLING UNDER GI BILL
By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The government will pay for at least a year's schooling for almost any veteran of this war, man or woman, commissioned officer or buck private. All ranks are included.
They get paid while they're going to school and some of them can get as much as four years' education at Uncle Sam's expense. To get that much, however, they must have served at least 3 years in the armed forces.
The requirements are simple:
A veteran must have had at least 90 days military service since Sept. 16, 1940 and been honorably discharged. If discharged because of service-incurred disability, before serving 90 days, he is credited with 90.
Tuition Plus Pay
The government pays school expenses up to $500. They include tuition, library, infirmary, laboratory and similar customary fees, books, supplies, and other necessary expenses. The government does not pay for board, lodging, or other living expenses.
But the government does pay the student veteran $50 a month if he has no dependents and $75 a month if he has dependents.
A veteran must apply for these education benefits within two years after his military discharge or within 2 years after the war's end, whichever is later.
Part-time Program
A veteran can go to anyone of the following types of schools that has state approval as an educational institution: public or private, elementary, secondary, and other schools furnishing education for adults, business schools and colleges, scientific and technical schools, colleges, vocational schools, including industrial establishments.
There are really three programs wrapped up in this general educational program:
There is a part-time program for employed veterans who still want some schooling.
There is a refresher or retraining course. It is limited strictly to one year.
Age Is Deciding Factor
Finally there is the program which gives a veteran at least one year's schooling and provides up to 4 years. This program works as follows:
If a veteran was under 25 years of age when he entered the service, it is taken for granted his education was interrupted. He gets one year's schooling automatically. He can get up to 4, depending upon the length of his military service and upon his doing the school work satisfactorily.
If a veteran was over 25 when he entered the service, he must show that his schooling was interrupted by the war. He gets one year and up to 4, depending upon his length of service and satisfactory school work.

Says Control Of Erosion Cuts Silt
Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—Farm soil erosion projects may prove a partial solution to the Delaware river silt problem, says Vice President Wallace.
Compensing the Honey Hollow Creek watershed about a mile west of Solebury, the project is spread over five farms and has been set up to prevent further soil damage and silting of the Delaware.
Wallace said "If silting is to be averted downstream and if future expense of all kinds it is to be avoided, much more work of this kind will have to be done in the Delaware river valley."

Non-Professional Employees Make Plea
Harrisburg, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Public School Employees' Association, comprising janitors and other non-teaching workers, asked a legislative commission Monday for equality with professional employees in a study of the commonwealth's education program.
Association Secretary Bausch said in a letter to Paul H. Wheller, secretary of the 15-member group which will report findings of the 1945 legislature, that "the majority of the members of the commission have failed to consider very thoroughly the cause of the non-professional class of public school employees."

THE WORKER
We are apt to classify workers, set them aside in groups, or isolate them from the universal whole. Anyone who does, anything, useful, whether with hand, body or mind, is a worker. And every worker deserves his reward.
Nothing is more disintegrating than to put one class of worker against another. We can live happily as workers only as we cooperate our efforts with all others. There is human dignity to any work, so long as it is useful, no matter what that work may be.
There should be no conflict anywhere. To do so would be to defeat the very purpose for which we live and have our being. The worker is the thinker—and the doer. The work of the brain passes to the work of the hand. Both are important and essential. Only as there is a cooperative happiness is there perfect efficiency attained. No honest work can be said to be menial.
All Nature is filled with workers—workers of every description. But they only work to live and be happy. And among the birds, they sing as they work or when at rest, but they accept work as the program of their lives. We can learn much from all of these workers in Nature.
No worker can do his best work if he is either unhappy or uninterested. He then becomes merely a cog in the machine. Monetary rewards dwindle as interest increases, for personal happiness in work far exceeds this. To feel you are doing creative work, that adds to the comfort and prosperity of many, is in itself inspiring. To nourish the mind, and at the same time to educate the heart, is to gain something beyond the reach of money pay. You can only encourage happiness, and character has to be built. Neither can be bought!
I like to recall that story about three workmen. Each was asked what he was doing. One replied that he was working for so much per day. The second said he was mixing mortar and laying bricks—but the third said he was building a Cathedral! All however, were workers.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Daily Retirement"

Says U. S. Aid To Chinese Inadequate
Chungking, Oct. 3 (AP)—Asserting recent Chinese reverses to lack of essential equipment, a spokesman for the Chinese National military council said Monday the actual tonnage of American supplies delivered to the East China coast since Pearl Harbor would not be sufficient to sustain an American or British division in combat for a week.
"The only real help afforded the Chinese armies in East China has been in the form of heroic and remarkably effective air support given by units of the U. S. 14th air force in that area," the spokesman said. "That achievement of Maj. Claire Chennault's men in this campaign constitutes another glowing page of military history."

No worker can do his best work if he is either unhappy or uninterested. He then becomes merely a cog in the machine. Monetary rewards dwindle as interest increases, for personal happiness in work far exceeds this. To feel you are doing creative work, that adds to the comfort and prosperity of many, is in itself inspiring. To nourish the mind, and at the same time to educate the heart, is to gain something beyond the reach of money pay. You can only encourage happiness, and character has to be built. Neither can be bought!
I like to recall that story about three workmen. Each was asked what he was doing. One replied that he was working for so much per day. The second said he was mixing mortar and laying bricks—but the third said he was building a Cathedral! All, however, were workers.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Daily Retirement"

Says U. S. Aid To Chinese Insufficient
Chungking, Oct. 3 (AP)—Attributing recent Chinese reverses to lack of essential equipment, a spokesman for the Chinese National military council said Monday the actual tonnage of American supplies delivered to the East China Province Pearl Harbor would not be sufficient to sustain an American or British division in combat for a week.
"The only real help afforded the Chinese armies in East China has been in the form of heroic and remarkably effective air support given by units of the U. S. 14th air force in that area," the spokesman said. "That achievement of Maj. Claire Chennault's men in this campaign constitutes another glowing page of military history."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO
The Ox Roast: The re-union of Union veterans on Saturday at Round Top was interfered with by the weather, but nevertheless was a conspicuous success. At an early hour the Park was filled by veterans from all parts of the county and their families. While the ox was in process of roasting, old acquaintances were renewed, new ones were made, and the time given up to social enjoyment.
The ox weighed, when cleaned, about 600 pounds, and was roasted by Mr. Frank Rosensteel and Wm. Aumen. It was carved and served by Mr. Philip Hoffman.
At 2:10 p. m., the audience gathered in large numbers in the Pavilion where a temporary stand was prepared. The meeting was called to order by Hon. Edward McPherson, who acted as presiding officer during the exercises.
It is estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 persons were present during the day.

Local Miscellany: Mr. Isaiah Trostle has the contract for the carpenter work of the new power house.
Ex-Sheriff N. W. Stoner has purchased William Spalding's interest in the McClellan House livery.
Ex-Sheriff Stoner has organized the "Gettysburg Battlefield Transportation Company." He is president of the company, Mr. John Kimple is secretary, and Capt. James T. Long is superintendent. The capacity of the new company is the carrying of 500 passengers. The headquarters are at the McClellan House.
The U. B. Mite Society excursion to Baltimore on Thursday carried 425 passengers.
Calvin H. Beamer has gone to the city to buy cattle.
The electric lights are expected to be turned on by the 20th of October. We hear the announcement of Mr. Ed Fisse's resignation as steward of the Alms House, was made Tuesday.
J. A. Stitzel has moved his marble works from Aspers to Bendersville. He will remove his residence to the same place in a few weeks.
The extension of the water mains to the seminary has been completed. Water flows on the second floor of all the buildings.

Marriages: Basehoar—Lynn—Sept. 20, at Littlestown, by Rev. F. S. Lindaman, David A. Basehoar, of Union township, to Miss Elizabeth C. Lynn, of Germany township.
Staley—Wagman—Sept. 27, in this place, by John L. Hill, Jr., Esq., William H. Staley to Miss Lucy A. Wagman, both of Hamiltonban township.
Witherow—Munshower. — Oct. 1, in this place, by Rev. W. S. Van Cleve, David W. Witherow, to Miss Laura V. Munshower, both of Cumberland township.
The Will of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens Sustained: The Supreme Court of the State on Monday affirmed the judgment of the Lancaster County in the matter of the distribution of the estate of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, deceased. The effect of this is to sustain the will, defeat the collateral heirs' claim for the entire estate and other adverse claims, and to secure the founding in Lancaster city of a home for homeless, indigent orphans, as described in Mr. Stevens' will.
It is twenty-six years since Mr. Stevens died. From the day of his death to the institution of these last proceedings, his estate has been harassed by hostile claims and suits—with a view to obtain his estate and defeat the charity to which he devoted it.
The only surviving executor of the three originally named is Edward McPherson. The estate is between $50,000 and $51,000.

Personal Mention: The Rev. W. E. Stahler was installed pastor of the Lutheran church in Lebanon on Sunday by the Rev. Dr. M. Valentin.
Donald P. McPherson has returned to Cambridge for his last year in the Harvard Law school.
Ex-Prothonotary Geo. L. H. Grammer has removed his family to Philadelphia, where he has a position in the Mint.
Charles D. Reynolds has gone to Meadeville. He will teach music and prepare for the Unitarian ministry.
James T. Elliott, son of Postmaster Elliott, left yesterday for Philadelphia to attend lectures in the school of Pharmacy. G. Frank Meals succeeds him in John M. Huber's drug store.
Mrs. and Miss Ziegler are guests of Mrs. John Cox.
Misses Mary and Edith Blocher, of Littlestown, are visiting Miss Laura Blocher.
H. A. Allison, of this place, has accepted a professorship in Palmyra college.
The Rev. Dr. T. C. Billheimer preached in Stidpenners on Sunday to the old congregation.

Four Fatalities Over Pa. Weekend
(By The Associated Press)
Pennsylvania week-end accidents took the lives of at least four persons, a decrease of 12 from last week.
They were:
P. J. James Lynn Lawhead, 25, Willow Grove, hit by automobile.
George Ridler, 61, Teleford, struck by train.
William Colvin, 14, Scranton, shotgun wound.
Wilson A. Scott, mail plane crash at State College.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—American officials are becoming mildly apprehensive lest there should be a general weakening of Allied cooperation—particularly in relations between Britain and Russia—as the European war concludes. The Polish situation is being studied in this light.
At the moment the highest aim of American diplomacy may be described as designed to preserve this unity during the critical period now beginning, in which postwar economic and political policies must be formed throughout the European world.
On the shaping of these policies, it is believed, depends the ultimate success of whatever world peace league may be set up.

Serious Balkan Clash
The core of the diplomatic problem is regarded as being the mutual suspicions and misunderstandings which cloud the dealings between Russia and the rest of the world. Partly this is the expected result of conflicts of interest between Russia and Britain in the Balkans; partly the result of ignorance about how people inside and outside of Russia do things differently.
Much time was taken up in the Russian security talks with British and American delegates at Dumbarton Oaks here on questions of political and press freedom. The Russian delegations reportedly found it hard to understand how criticism of the government and all its operations could be published and spoken so freely.
By far the most serious clash of Anglo-Russian interests is in the Balkans because of Russia's westward expansion of influence and Britain's concern over the Turkish-Dardanelles flank of the empire lifeline to India. Probably less vital but more spectacular is the conflict over Poland.
Collaboration Difficult
At the moment when there was some hope among American diplomatic officials of an early settlement of Russo-Polish problems, the Soviet-sponsored Polish National committee attacked as a "war criminal" General Tadeusz Komorowski ("General Bor"), new commander in chief of the forces of the Polish exiled government.
The exiled government has had the backing of Britain and the United States. Britain has been most active in seeking to bring it together with Russia.
The Polish issue is by no means the only such situation. Britain's reported insistence on holding Bulgarian armistice talks at Cairo; Russia's subsequent unexpected declaration of war on Bulgaria; the unhesitating election of British and American military missions from Bulgaria—even though there is some question whether they were properly in the country—all are considered incidents of the type which are beginning to tax to the limit those diplomats and officials whose primary objective is post-war collaboration of the victorious Allies.

Asks WPB To Save Little Steel Plan
Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers called on the War Labor board Monday to "be fair to those who fight as well as those who work for victory" by standing firm on the Little Steel wage formula.
Asserting that neither a general wage increase nor a general price increase would be in the public interest now, Robert M. Gaylord added in a statement prepared for submission to the board:
"It is unfortunate that a decision on this issue has been postponed until this time when circumstances make it a political football."
He appeared as an industry spokesman at hearings the board is conducting on labor's demands that the Little Steel Formula be scrapped. Eric A. Johnson, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, also will testify today.

Bricker Quotes Truman Committee
Bowling Green, Ky. Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio asserted Monday the Democrats' own nominee for vice president had said the Roosevelt administration was responsible for "inadequate over-all planning and delay in determining basic policies" of the war program.
The Republican candidate for vice president, opening a four-week western campaign that will carry him to the Pacific coast, quoted from speeches, writings and official reports which he said had been made by Senator Harry S. Truman, his Democratic opponent.
Yet, Bricker asserted in a prepared text released by his campaign staff, Senator Truman "now would have the American people believe that 'the welfare of this nation and its future, as well as the peace of the whole world' depend upon another four years of Roosevelt and the new deal."

TAXES WILL BE DEWEY TOPIC IN TONIGHT'S TALK

By JACK BELL
Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey chose the important, but oratorically dull, subject of "taxes" for a broadcast tonight amid indications that he planned a hard-hitting attack on President Roosevelt and the New Deal in a climactic series of personal appearances before the November election.
The announcement that the Republican presidential nominee would talk at 8:45 p. m. tonight over the Mutual network from the executive mansion was followed by reports that he had an elastic schedule of major appearances in key cities between now and November 7th.
The New York Governor will invade the midwest again October 25 for a speech in Chicago, the late date possibly giving some indication of the importance which he attaches to Illinois' 28 electoral votes. He also may visit Detroit.
Dewey probably will go to Minneapolis October 26 for a speech in Minnesota, where the November results may have been made more doubtful by the announcement of Senator Joseph Ball, Republican, that he was not prepared to support his party's nominee at this time. Ball said he lacked necessary assurances that the New York Governor would engage in an all-out effort to help form an effective international security organization.

First Exclusive Radio Talk
There have been indications that Dewey would go into Missouri, the home state of Senator Harry S. Truman, the Democratic vice presidential nominee. Some unconfirmed reports said that plans had been made for a speech October 12 in St. Louis. Kansas City Republicans also have been bidding for an appearance there. Pittsburgh probably will be on the itinerary, for Pennsylvania is listed among the doubtful states.
Most Republican strategists have contended that Dewey should finish his drive in the industrial east and, because he expects to be in New York city on election night, November 7, to receive the returns, he probably will conclude his campaign on the Atlantic seaboard. Local officials already have announced he will be in Boston November 1.
Tonight's talk will be the first directed by Dewey exclusively to a radio audience since he won the nomination. If the response to what is expected to be a dispassionate discussion of taxes is favorable, more broadcasts of this nature may follow.

Arrest Pair For Shooting Trooper
Bedford, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—A posse captured two youths in the mountains here Sunday two hours after they are alleged to have wounded State Policeman Charles K. Pentz.
The policeman was hit with a bullet in the left shoulder, and his condition was not regarded as critical. Pentz was driving along route 30, six miles east of Bedford when he stopped a speeding car in which the two youths were riding. When he began to question them, Pentz asserted, one pulled a pistol and fired; the two then sped away in their car, the trooper giving chase.
The pursuit led to a driveway at the city dump, where, Pentz said, the pair abandoned the car, waded across a stream and climbed Bookers' hill. Pentz, suffering loss of blood, drove to a hospital and other state policemen took up the chase, aided by citizens. They arrested the two in the mountains about two miles from the dump. The suspects gave their names as Peter Benjamin and gave their names as Peter Benjamin, known as William Sawchak, both of Pittsburgh.

Gets 6-12 Years In Mercer Co. Death
Mercer, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—William A. Morrell, strapping 21-year-old farm hand was sentenced Monday to a term of from six to 12 years in Western penitentiary in connection with the death of Mrs. Helen Wilson on a dairy farm here a year ago.
Judge George H. Rowley pronounced the penalty. The youth had been convicted on a charge of voluntary manslaughter.
Mrs. Wilson, 43, wife of farmer Everett Wilson, was one of three persons found dead on the farm last October 7. The other victims were Mrs. Catherine Wilson, 76, mother of Wilson, and Robert McKay, 70, a farm hand. Two of the victims had been killed with a shotgun and the younger Mrs. Wilson apparently strangled.
A jury in Mercer county court acquitted Morrell of murder charges in the case, and also acquitted his ex-sweetheart, Blonde Janice Graham, 21, at a separate trial.

OPA THREATENS COURT ACTION

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—Injunctions will be sought in Federal court, the office of price administration warned today, against licensed meat slaughterers charged with violating the price control act by failing to grade meats properly.
Nine wholesale dealers were cited in complaints filed by the OPA yesterday and before the end of October. OPA Attorney Samuel Chertoff said, 100 slaughterers will be named in injunctions charging they over-rated beef, veal, lamb and mutton.
The law requires, Chertoff said, that federal men grade meat slaughtered commercially. When none are available slaughterers must obtain written permission to do their own grading but are not permitted to grade any meat above the "A" type.
"The only way a retailer knows how to price his meat," Chertoff explained, "is by the grading stamp. When the grade stamped on a meat is higher than the actual quality of the meat, the grocer unsuspiciously passes the over-charge on to the housewife."

ARE HARVESTING MAKINGS OF TWO BILLION CIGARS
Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Lancaster county tobacco growers are harvesting the makings of almost 2,000,000,000 cigars.
Growing about 92 per cent of all tobacco produced in the state, this Pennsylvania Dutch area's 1944 yield is estimated by county farm agent Floyd S. Bucher at 46,200,000 pounds, which, he says:
"Should make about 40 cigars to the pound and relieve the current shortage by 1,848,000,000 smokes."
"A Good Crop"
Bucher also figures the crop value, based on last year's ceiling prices of 21 cents a pound for wrappers and seven cents for fillers, at $8,400,000.
Almost all of the county's tobacco goes into manufacture of cigars of reasonable price level, the larger portion being used for fillers and the rest for the "binders" or wrappers.
"It's a good crop," said Bucher, "estimates show we are getting about 1,400 pounds to the acre as compared to 1,350 pounds last year, an increase of some 5,000,000 pounds over 1943."

VETS GET PAY, FREE SCHOOLING UNDER GI BILL

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The government will pay for at least a year's schooling for almost any veteran of this war, man or woman, commissioned officer or buck private. All ranks are included.
They get paid while they're going to school and some of them can get as much as four years' education at Uncle Sam's expense. To get that much, however, they must have served at least 3 years in the armed forces.
The requirements are simple:
A veteran must have had at least 90 days military service since Sept. 16, 1940 and been honorably discharged. If discharged because of service-incurred disability before serving 90 days, he is credited with 90.
Tuition Plus Pay
The government pays school expenses up to $500. They include tuition, library, infirmary, laboratory and similar customary fees, books, supplies, and other necessary expenses. The government does not pay for board, lodging, or other living expenses.
But the government does pay the student veteran $50 a month if he has no dependents and $75 a month if he has dependents.
A veteran must apply for these education benefits within two years after his military discharge or within 2 years after the war's end, whichever is later.
Part-time Program
A veteran can go to any one of the following types of schools that has state approval as an educational institution: public or private, elementary, secondary, and other schools furnishing education for adults, business schools and colleges, scientific and technical schools, colleges, vocational schools, including industrial establishments.
There are really three programs wrapped up in this general educational program:
There is a part-time program for employed veterans who still want some schooling.
There is a refresher or retraining course. It is limited strictly to one year.
Age Is Deciding Factor
Finally there is the program which gives a veteran at least one year's schooling and provides up to 4 years. This program works as follows:
If a veteran was under 25 years of age when he entered the service, it is taken for granted his education was interrupted. He gets one year's schooling, automatically. He can get up to 4, depending upon the length of his military service and upon his doing the school work satisfactorily.
If a veteran was over 25 when he entered the service, he must show that his schooling was interrupted by the war. He gets one year and up to 4, depending upon his length of service and satisfactory school work.

Says Control Of Erosion Cuts Silt

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—Farm soil erosion projects may prove a partial solution to the Delaware river silt problem, says Vice President Wallace.
Comprising the Honey Hollow Creek watershed about a mile west of Soleburg, the project is spread over five farms and has been set up to prevent further soil damage and silting of the Delaware.
Wallace said "If silting is to be averted downstream and if future expense of all kinds it is to be avoided, much more work of this kind will have to be done in the Delaware river valley."

Non - Professional Employees Make Plea
Harrisburg, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Public School Employees' Association, comprising janitors and other non-teaching workers, asked a legislative commission Monday "for equality with professional employees" in a study of the commonwealth's education program.
Association Secretary Bausch said in a letter to Paul H. Wueller, secretary of the 15-member group which will report findings of the 1945 legislature, that "the majority of the members of the commission have failed to consider very thoroughly the cause of the non-professional class of public school employees."

PREJUDICE

There was a little drowning lad
Whose final scream had caught an ear,
A passer-by in denim clad,
And one he had been taught to fear.

The skin of him was ebony-hued,
But brave was he and muscled strong.
Henceforth a mother's gratitude
To him forever will belong.

God's will? Who knows why men accept
The risk when others aid implore?
Into the stream the dark man leapt
And brought the white boy safe to shore.

That evening kneeling by his bed
When he finished with his prayer
"Mama, the man was black!" he said,
And "Did you know and do you care?"

Today's Talk

THE WORKER

We are apt to classify workers, set them aside in groups, or isolate them from the universal whole. Anyone who does anything useful, whether, with hand, body or mind, is a worker. And every worker deserves his reward.

Nothing is more disintegrating than to put one class of worker against another. We can live happily as workers only as we cooperate our efforts with all others. There is human dignity to any work, so long as it is useful, no matter what that work may be.

There should be no conflict anywhere. To do so would be to defeat the very purpose for which we live and have our being. The worker is the thinker—and the doer. The work of the brain passes to the work of the hand. Both are important and essential. Only as there is a cooperative happiness is there perfect efficiency attained. No honest work can be said to be menial.

All Nature is filled with workers—workers of every description. But they only work to live and be happy. And among the birds, they sing as they work, or when at rest, but they accept work as the program of their lives. We can learn much from all of these workers in Nature.

No worker can do his best work if he is either unhappy or uninterested. He then becomes merely a cog in the machine. Monetary rewards dwindle as interest increases, for personal happiness in work far exceeds this. To feel you are doing creative work, that adds to the comfort and prosperity of many, is in itself inspiring. To nourish the mind, and at the same time to educate the heart, is to gain something beyond the reach of money pay. You can only encourage happiness, and character has to be built. Neither can be bought!

I like to recall that story about three workmen. Each was asked what he was doing. One replied that he was working for so much per day. The second said he was mixing mortar and laying bricks—but the third said he was building a Cathedral! All, however, were workers.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Daily Retirement"

Says U. S. Aid To Chinese Insufficient

Chungking, Oct. 3 (AP)—Attributing recent Chinese reverses to lack of essential equipment, a spokesman for the Chinese National military council said Monday the actual tonnage of American supplies delivered to the East China front since Pearl Harbor would not be sufficient to sustain an American or British division in combat for a week.

"The only real help afforded the Chinese armies in East China has been in the form of heroic and remarkably effective air support given by units of the U. S. 14th air force in that area," the spokesman said. "That achievement of Maj. Claire Chennault's men in this campaign constitutes another glowing page of military history."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The Ox Roast: The re-union of Union veterans on Saturday at Round Top was interfered with by the weather, but nevertheless was a conspicuous success. At an early hour the Park was filled by veterans from all parts of the county and their families. While the ox was in process of roasting, old acquaintances were renewed, new ones were made, and the time given up to social enjoyment.

The ox weighed, when cleaned, about 600 pounds, and was roasted by Mr. Frank Rosensteel and Wm. Aumen. It was carved and served by Mr. Philip Hoffman.

At 2:10 p. m., the audience gathered in large numbers in the Pavilion where a temporary stand was prepared. The meeting was called to order by Hon. Edward McPherson, who acted as presiding officer during the exercises.

It is estimated that between 4,000 and 5,000 persons were present during the day.

Brady M. Sefton has purchased the tontorial establishment of H. P. Thorn, and will be pleased to have his many friends favor him with their patronage. First class equipment and first rate work. (Ad.)

Local Miscellany: Mr. Isaiah Trostle has the contract for the carpenter work of the new power house.

Ex-Sheriff N. W. Stoner has purchased William Spalding's interest in the McClellan House livery.

Ex-Sheriff Stoner has organized the "Gettysburg Battlefield Transportation Company." He is president of the company, Mr. John Kimpke is secretary, and Capt. James T. Long is superintendent. The capacity of the new company is the carrying of 500 passengers. The headquarters are at the McClellan House.

The U. B. Mite Society excursion to Baltimore on Thursday carried 425 passengers.

Calvin H. Beamer has gone to the city to buy cattle.

The electric lights are expected to be turned on by the 20th of October.

We hear the announcement of Mr. El Fissel's resignation as steward of the Alms House, was made Tuesday.

J. A. Stitzel has moved his marble works from Aspers to Bendersville. He will remove his residence to the same place in a few weeks.

The extension of the water mains to the seminary has been completed. Water flows on the second floor of all the buildings.

Marriages: Basehor—Lynn—Sept. 20, at Littlestown, by Rev. F. S. Lindaman, David A. Basehor, of Union township, to Miss Elizabeth C. Lynn, of Germany township.

Staley—Wagaman—Sept. 27, in this place, by John L. Hill, Jr., Esq., William H. Staley to Miss Lucy A. Wagaman, both of Hamiltonban township.

Witherow—Munshower—Oct. 1, in this place, by Rev. W. S. Van Cleave, David W. Witherow, to Miss Laura V. Munshower, both of Cumberland township.

The Will of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens Sustained: The Supreme Court of the State on Monday affirmed the judgment of the Lancaster Court in the matter of the distribution of the estate of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, deceased. The effect of this is to sustain the will, defeat the collateral heirs' claim for the entire estate and other adverse claims, and to secure the founding in Lancaster city of a home for homeless, indigent orphans, as described in Mr. Stevens's will.

It is twenty-six years since Mr. Stevens died. From the day of his death to the institution of these last proceedings, his estate has been harassed by hostile claims and suits—with a view to obtain his estate and defeat the charity to which he devoted it.

The only surviving executor of the three originally named is Edward McPherson. The estate is between $50,000 and $51,000.

Donald P. McPherson has returned to Cambridge for his last year in the Harvard Law school.

Ex-Prothonotary Geo. L. H. Grammer has removed his family to Philadelphia, where he has a position in the Mint.

Charles D. Reynolds has gone to Meadeville. He will teach music and prepare for the Unitarian ministry.

James T. Elliott, son of Postmaster Elliott, left yesterday for Philadelphia to attend lectures in the School of Pharmacy. G. Frank Meals succeeds him in John M. Huber's drug store.

H. A. Allison, of this place, has accepted a professorship in Palatine college.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—American officials are becoming mildly apprehensive lest there should be a general weakening of Allied cooperation—particularly in relations between Britain and Russia—as the European war concludes. The Polish situation is being studied in this light.

At the moment the highest aim of American diplomacy may be described as designed to preserve this unity during the critical period now beginning, in which postwar economic and political policies must be formed throughout the European world.

On the shaping of these policies, it is believed, depends the ultimate success of whatever world peace league may be set up.

Serious Balkan Clash

The core of the diplomatic problem is regarded as being the mutual suspicions and misunderstandings which cloud the dealings between Russia and the rest of the world. Partly this is the expected result of conflicts of interest between Russia and Britain in the Balkans; partly the result of ignorance about how people inside and outside of Russia do things differently.

Much time was taken up in the Russian security talks with British and American delegates at Dumbarton Oaks here on questions of political and press freedom. The Russian delegations reportedly found it hard to understand how criticism of the government and all its operations could be published and spoken so freely.

By far the most serious clash of Anglo-Russian interests is in the Balkans because of Russia's westward expansion of influence and Britain's concern over the Turkish-Dardanelles flank of the empire lifeline to India. Probably less vital but more spectacular is the conflict over Poland.

Collaboration Difficult

At the moment when there was some hope among American diplomatic officials of an early settlement of Russo-Polish problems, the Soviet-sponsored Polish National committee attacked as a "war criminal" General Tadeusz Komorowski ("General Bor"), new commander in chief of the forces of the Polish exiled government.

The exiled government has had the backing of Britain and the United States. Britain has been most active in seeking to bring it together with Russia.

The Polish issue is by no means the only such situation. Britain's reported insistence on holding Bulgarian armistice talks at Cairo; Russia's subsequent unexpected declaration of war on Bulgaria; the unhesitating ejection of British and American military missions from Bulgaria—even though there is some question whether they were properly in the country—all are considered incidents of the type which are beginning to tax to the limit those diplomats and officials whose primary objective is post-war collaboration of the victorious Allies.

Asks WPB To Save Little Steel Plan

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The president of the National Association of Manufacturers called on the War Labor board Monday to "be fair to those who fight as well as those who work for victory" by standing firm on the Little Steel wage formula.

Asserting that neither a general wage increase nor a general price increase would be in the public interest now, Robert M. Gaylord added in a statement prepared for submission to the board:

"It is unfortunate that a decision on this issue has been postponed until this time when circumstances make it a political football."

He appeared as an industry spokesman at hearings the board is conducting on labor's demands that the Little Steel Formula be scrapped. Eric A. Johnson, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, also will testify today.

Four Fatalities Over Pa. Weekend

TAXES WILL BE DEWEY TOPIC IN TONIGHT'S TALK

By JACK BELL

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey chose the important, but oratorically dull, subject of "taxes" for a broadcast tonight amid indications that he planned a hard-hitting attack on President Roosevelt and the New Deal in a climactic series of personal appearances before the November election.

The announcement that the Republican presidential nominee would talk at 8:45 p. m. tonight over the Mutual network from the executive mansion was followed by reports that he had an elastic schedule of major appearances in key cities between now and November 7th.

The New York Governor will invade the Midwest again October 25 for a speech in Chicago, the late date possibly giving some indication of the importance of the Illinois vote. He also may visit Detroit.

Dewey probably will go to Minneapolis October 26 for a speech in Minnesota, where the November results may have been made more doubtful by the announcement of Senator Joseph Ball, Republican, that he was not prepared to support his party's nominee at this time.

Ball said he lacked necessary assurances that the New York Governor would engage in an all-out effort to help form an effective international security organization.

First Exclusive Radio Talk

There have been indications that Dewey would go into Missouri, the home state of Senator Harry S. Truman, the Democratic vice presidential nominee. Some unconfirmed reports said that plans had been made for a speech October 12 in St. Louis. Kansas City Republicans also have been bidding for an appearance there. Pittsburgh probably will be on the itinerary, for Pennsylvania is listed among the doubtful states.

Most Republican strategists have contended that Dewey should finish his drive in the industrial east and, because he expects to be in New York city on election night, November 7, to receive the returns, he probably will conclude his campaign on the Atlantic seaboard. Local officials already have announced he will be in Boston November 1.

Tonight's talk will be the first directed by Dewey exclusively to a radio audience since he won the nomination. If the response to what is expected to be a dispassionate discussion of taxes is favorable, more broadcasts of this nature may follow.

OPA THREATENS COURT ACTION

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3 (AP)—Injunctions will be sought in Federal court, the office of price administration warned today, against licensed meat slaughterers charged with violating the price control act by failing to grade meats properly.

Nine wholesale dealers were cited in complaints filed by the OPA yesterday and before the end of October, OPA Attorney Samuel Chertoff said, 100 slaughterers will be named in injunctions charging they over-rated beef, veal, lamb and mutton.

The law requires, Chertoff said, that federal men grade meat slaughtered commercially. When none are available slaughterers must obtain written permission to do their own grading but are not permitted to grade any meat above the "A" type. "The only way a retailer knows how to price his meat," Chertoff explained, "is by the grading stamp. When the grade stamped on a meat is higher than the actual quality of the meat, the grocer unsuspiciously passes the over-charge on to the housewife."

Arrest Pair For Shooting Trooper

Bedford, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—A posse captured two youths in the mountains here Sunday two hours after they are alleged to have wounded State Policeman Charles K. Pentz.

Pentz was driving along route 30, six miles east of Bedford when he stopped a speeding car in which the two youths were riding. When he began to question them, Pentz asserted, one pulled a pistol and fired; the two then sped away in their car, the trooper giving chase.

The pursuit led to a driveway at the city dump, where, Pentz said, the pair abandoned the car, waded across a stream and climbed Bookers' hill. Pentz, suffering loss of blood, drove to a hospital and other state policemen took up the chase, aided by citizens. They arrested the two in the mountains about two miles from the dump. The suspects gave their names as Peter Benjamin and gave their names as Peter Benjamin known as William Sawchak, both of Pittsburgh.

A jury in Mercer county court acquitted Morell of murder charges in the case, and also acquitted his ex-sweetheart, blonde Janice Graham, 21, at a separate trial.

A jury in Mercer county court acquitted Morell of murder charges in the case, and also acquitted his ex-sweetheart, blonde Janice Graham, 21, at a separate trial.

VETS GET PAY, FREE SCHOOLING UNDER GI BILL

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—The government will pay for at least a year's schooling for almost any veteran of this war, man or woman, commissioned officer or buck private. All ranks are included.

They get paid while they're going to school and some of them can get as much as four years' education at Uncle Sam's expense. To get that much, however, they must have served at least 3 years in the armed forces.

The requirements are simple:

A veteran must have had at least 90 days military service since Sept. 16, 1940 and been honorably discharged. If discharged because of service-incurred disability before serving 90 days, he is credited with 90.

Tuition Plus Pay

The government pays school expenses up to $500. They include tuition, library, infirmary, laboratory and similar customary fees, books, supplies, and other necessary expenses. The government does not pay for board, lodging, or other living expenses.

But the government does pay the student veteran $50 a month if he has no dependents and $75 a month if he has dependents.

A veteran must apply for these education benefits within two years after his military discharge or within 2 years after the war's end, whichever is later.

Part-time Program

A veteran can go to anyone of the following types of schools that has state approval as an educational institution: public or private, elementary, secondary, and other schools furnishing education for adults, business schools and colleges, scientific and technical schools, colleges, vocational schools, including industrial establishments.

There are really three programs wrapped up in this general educational program:

There is a part-time program for employed veterans who still want some schooling.

There is a refresher or retraining course. It is limited strictly to one year.

Age Is Deciding Factor

Finally there is the program which gives a veteran at least one year's schooling and provides up to 4 years. This program works as follows:

If a veteran was under 25 years of age when he entered the service, it is taken for granted his education was interrupted. He gets one year's schooling, automatically. He can get up to 4, depending upon his length of his military service and upon his doing the school work satisfactorily.

If a veteran was over 25 when he entered the service, he must show that his schooling was interrupted by 4. He gets one year and up to 4, depending upon his length of service and satisfactory school work.

Cause Of Pennsy Derailment Sought

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania railroad officials sought today to determine the cause of the derailment of six cars of a westbound freight train a half mile east of here last night.

No one was injured, the railroad said, and only one of the four main line tracks was blocked, causing little delay in passenger traffic. The train was bound from Enola to Pittsburgh.

Says Control Of Erosion Cuts Silt

Philadelphia, Oct. 3 (AP)—Farm soil erosion projects may prove a partial solution to the Delaware river silt problem, says Vice President Wallace.

Comprising the Honey Hollow Creek watershed about a mile west of Solebuck, the project is spread over five farms and has been set up to prevent further soil damage and silting of the Delaware.

Wallace said "If silting is to be averted downstream and if future expense of all kinds it is to be avoided, much more work of this kind will have to be done in the Delaware river valley."

Non-Professional Employees Make Plea

Harrisburg, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Public School Employees' Association, comprising janitors and other non-teaching workers, asked a legislative commission Monday "for equality with professional employees" in a study of the commonwealth's education program.

Association Secretary Bausch said in a letter to Paul H. Wueller, secretary of the 15-member group which will report findings of the 1945 legislature, that "the majority of the members of the commission have failed to consider very thoroughly the cause of the non-professional class of public school employees."

FOWL—Colored, 28-29 1/2c; Leghorns, 18-20c, some large higher.

CATTLE—Steers and predominated the cattle receipts at the opening of the week. Good steers were again scarce, common and medium grades predominating. Sheepstock quality was greatly improved over previous weeks. All slaughter classes, as well as stockers and feeders, sold active and steady with last week's close.

In the steer division there was a load of mostly top-grade and choice around 1.120 offered, that had been on full feed on grass that brought $17. day's top and highest price since last spring. Next best price, $16.50, paid for a small lot of good arrivals that averaged around 1,100 pounds.

Several loads and lot of good grassers and choice steers, cashed from $14.50-16.25 with the load lot top stopping at $15. Medium to good grassers, $12-14.25; bulk of sales, $12.50-13.75; common grade steers, $10-11.50; odd head of cutters downward to $8.

There was a single good baby-heifer type heifer, 610 lbs., that brought $14 top in this class; numerous loads and lots of common and medium grades arriving, $10-13 with a few head up to $13.50. Common and medium beef cows mostly $8.50-12, with a few outstanding head of medium grade cows, $12.50-13.75; common grade cows, $12.50; most dairy bred offerings of the same grade around $10.50—canners and cutters, $5.50-8; shelly canners downward to $5 and less.

Beef bulls largely $11.50-12.50, with an outstanding individual up to $13; top saucers bulls, $10.50, with a few weighty individuals up to $11; bulk of light and medium weight saucers offerings, $7-9.50. Several lots of medium and good feeder steers, all weights, $10-12.50; common lightweight stockers, $7-9.50.

CALVES—Vealers active and steady with the close of last week. Good and choice 120-250 lb. vealers $15 to mainly $16; common and medium, $9.50-14.25; bulls around $8, with extremes in quality down to $5. Weighty slaughter calves dull, with several lots still in first hands at the close of the market; however, the sale made were steady. Medium to choice 300-450 lb. arrivals, $10-12.50.

HOGS—Swine trading active and steady with last week's close. Early clearance was evident as interested buyers bid freely. Good and choice Grimses, $12-13; $12.50-13.50; latter price ceiling. Comparable grades from 120-150 lbs., $13.75-14; 150-140 lb. $14.25-14.50; 140-160 lb. $14.25-15; 241-300 lbs., $14.30-14.55. Good sows up to 400 lbs., $13.50-14.10, over 400 lbs. mostly rough weight offerings, considerably lower. Above prices are based on grain-fed hogs.

SHEEP—Fat woolled lambs scarce, trading very active and prices unchanged from last week's close. Practical top held at $16. Small lots of good and choice woolled lambs mostly 70 lbs., up, ordered $15.50-16; common and medium grades, $15.50-15.50; culls around $8.50 with extremes as low as $5. Slaughter ewes steady. Fat lightweight shorn offerings brought $5, with cull as low as $1.50.

Yanks Change Old Opinions About Dutch And Windmills

By HAL BOYLE

With American Troops in Holland, Sept. 25 (Delayed) (AP)—The National salute by Hollanders to every jeepload of American soldiers is "Hello, boys."

Gone is that preliminary period of doubt and uncertainty when troops met with almost blank stares or covert "V" signs. Most of the Dutch are pretty well convinced that the Nazis won't be able to make a comeback and that the Yanks are here to stay until the war is over.

And since they are reasonably sure of their safety, they have been going way out in many cases to show how welcome the American Army really is.

Like Pennsylvania

No country has been more of a surprise than that section of Holland now occupied by the first American Army. Its wooded hills and green farmlands full of grazing black and white cows, and neat brick towns look more like a corner of rural Pennsylvania than the land of dikes.

In dress these people differ little from those the troops left behind in the small towns of America.

Somewhat, most of the soldiers thought that all parts of Holland were full of quaintly attired folks and whirling windmills—just as a lot of people throughout Europe think Indians still pitch teepees and hunt buffalo in the suburbs of Manhattan.

"I expected to see windmills and women wearing white pointed caps and wooden shoes, and acres of tulip beds," said Pvt. Gordon Conroy, of Milford, N. H.

Windmills Gone

"It wasn't that way at all. Some people look just like they did in France and Belgium and I haven't come across a tulip yet. We asked about windmills and a man told us there was an old one somewhere in the neighborhood but it hadn't been used for years."

"Most of our boys have found people really glad to see us—but there sure was a lull when we first came in. They didn't seem to know whether to greet us or not."

"Their girls seem to be either very good-looking or just the opposite. They don't stack up to those in Paris though. The beer is darn good and only ten cents a glass. It has a good top to it—good enough to make you homesick."

Pvt. James Spilker, of Fayetteville, Ohio, a driver who steered his jeep across as many miles of France as any man in the Army, likes Holland because he can understand better what these flaxen-haired folk are talking about than he could in Belgium or Normandy.

Loyal To Queen

"They have a lot of words almost like ours," he said. "I can pick up about two-thirds of what they say."

Dutch flags—his, red, white and blue flag is like the French tricolor with colors reversed—fly everywhere. Most Hollanders wear

Council corrected minutes of the last meeting by eliminating a reference, made by one councilman, to the pavement grading project along the north side of the first block of Chambersburg street as a "dead issue." Council made it clear that the project will be carried through to completion when an agreement can be reached with the property owners involved on the question of damages.

Councilman Harry E. Koch told council that as a member of the sewer committee he wished to be placed on record as favoring continuation of the $1,000 limit on Tiber improvements this year.

He referred to the friendly disagreement last month between the other members of the sewer committee on the question of Tiber work.

Mr. Koch also asked and received a council order for cleaning the channel of the small stream west of Steinwehr avenue.

The monthly report of the treasurer, Mr. Basehore, was received showing a balance of $36,711 in the general fund at the end of last month with receipts amounting to $863, and expenditures of $3,348.

Councilmen L. D. Shealer, Harry J. Troxell, Harry E. Koch and J. D. Kendehart attended with President Oyler, Treasurer Basehore, Solicitor E. V. Bulleit and the secretary, Mrs. Anna Dracha.

Sgt. Paul Newman Now At Asheville

S. Sgt. Paul G. Newman, Jr., of Gettysburg, has arrived at the Asheville, North Carolina Army Ground and Service Force Redistribution Station where he is awaiting reassignment to duty.

Sgt. Newman recently returned from duty in Italy. He has been awarded the Purple Heart, Good Conduct medal, Pre-Pearl Harbor award and Combat Infantry badge. He wears the Italian and Larietta campaign ribbons.

Named Assistant Girl Scout Leader

At the regular weekly meeting of the Caroline Codori Girl Scout troop, Monday evening, Miss Betty Rosensteel, Steinwehr avenue, former First Class Scout of the Troop was named Assistant Leader, to Miss Mary Ramer, leader of the troop. Mrs. Romeo Capozzi is also an assistant leader. Mrs. William Hushman was appointed as a member of the troop committee. Plans were made for a supper-bite to be held Wednesday evening.

The first kindergarten was established in 1837 at Blankenburg, Germany.

LETTER STIRS MURDER TRIAL

Salinas, Calif., Oct. 3 (AP)—An anonymous letter apparently from a San Francisco girl, who said her boy friend murdered Jay Lovett, today produced an investigation concurrent with the trial of Mrs. Frances Andrews, heiress to a Pennsylvania oil fortune, charged with the Youth's death.

Defense Attorney Leo Friedman showed newsmen a special delivery letter addressed to him, a blood splattered notebook and two bloody receipts he said the letter contained, and which the author averred were taken off Jay's body immediately after he died.

The mysterious letter, signed by "June" and postmarked San Francisco, said that her boy friend, "Jack," shot Lovett during a struggle for a gun.

The letter identified the receipts as medical bills paid by the slain boy and the notebook as memorandum of social engagements with Lovett.

Friedman said he does not overlook the possibility the letter may be from a crank, but said all facts should be investigated. He said the girl's letter sounded "reasonable and its contents plausible." The district attorney's office agreed to study the documents.

BRIDE AT 14 TESTIFIES

Salt Lake City, Oct. 3 (AP)—Defense attorneys relied partly today on the testimony of a girl who at 14 was the "celestial" bride of a "fundamentalist" cult member in attempting to prove their assertion that plural marriage was not commonly discussed in cult meetings.

They called pretty Mrs. Alice Caldwell as a defense witness in the district court trial of 31 persons charged with conspiring to preach and practice polygamy.

The 17-year-old brunette related, as a state's witness last week, the story of her "celestial marriage" three years ago to Ross Wesley Le Baron, a defendant.

Recalled by the defense, Mrs. Caldwell said she attended two cult meetings. Asked whether there had been any mention of plural marriage at the meetings, she replied, "No, sir—none at all."

She said no one except Le Baron and Charles P. Zitting, also a defendant, who she said performed the "marriage" rite, ever has spoken to her concerning polygamy.

Mrs. Caldwell, who said she never lived with Le Baron, now is married to a Marine.

an orange ribbon or fly an orange bunting with their flag to show loyalty to Queen Wilhelmina and the House of Orange.

Even the casual observer is impressed with the affection felt by the Dutch for their stout-hearted Queen compared with the apathy evidenced by the Belgians for King Leopold. There is considerable resentment over his marriage while still a prisoner to the Germans and the homes of thousands of his subjects are disrupted by war.

Chapter 23

Hal Jackson, owner of the Midvale drugstore, got his hat; the two men hurried out onto the street. It was a warm evening. A yellow moon hung low over the hills. Half of Midvale seemed to be out tonight window shopping or loitering in chattering groups.

Orrie Mason and his wife and daughter joined them. Orrie's wife sighed as they stopped before the movie house.

"It would be a western." Her daughter said, "You should've sold tickets to that council meeting, Mr. Lockhart. That's the show Mom's dyin' to see!"

Both fans were going in Lockhart's office and chairs all around the wall. All seven council members arrived early and by seven-thirty the minutes had been read through and the council was facing Thorny curiously.

Thorny grinned around at them. After his weeks of fighting against hopeless odds he was determined to enjoy his night of triumph. He said:

"Fellows, I had this meeting called to settle once and for all this factory business. As you all know Julie's been bound to run it here, and the town's been bound she wouldn't count of it's feelings about her father. Lately there's been some evidence that the town might be wrong in its stand against her."

"You mean the letter in the paper?"

"I mean that."

Orrie Mason asked to see the letter. He was out of town and hadn't gotten up here to see it. Thorny brought it out and passed it around. Orrie said, "Could be legitimate, I reckon, but seems kind of funny after all these years that somebody's worryin' about clearin' the Scarbrough name."

"Yeah," Hal Jackson chimed in. "Seems mighty convenient for the Scarbroughs."

Thorny gave a short of temper. "So that's how you have it figured. It's a trick. An I s'pose you think I'm in on it."

The council in a body protested. They had known Thorny since grade school. That was ridiculous.

"You've known Julie that long too," Thorny reminded them. Hal Jackson winked around the room. "Yeah, but we don't get a retaining fee for doing her business."

Thorny exploded over this and the council chuckled through his bombast.

"This whole town'd be gettin' plenty if you'd pull in your horns and support the factory, and you know it," he shouted. "I'd be willin' to carry on this feud, too. If I thought justice hadn't been done. But I sat in on Scarbrough's trial twenty years ago, and I wasn't convinced he was guilty then and I'm less convinced now. The town didn't like Scarbrough because he was ornery proud. And they got a chance to take it out on him so they started a lot of vicious talk that grew until you're all duped with it."

He was pounding his desk now, and shouting. "Are you going to stop cutting off your noses to spite your faces now and help Julie with that factory or not?"

Mason broke the silence that followed. "You mean if we won't support the factory Julie'll sell out to those two men from Chicago?"

Thorny said, "How in thunderation did you know about that?"

"Hundred thousand dollars is a lot of money for a factory."

"Why isn't that the best way all around?"

Thorny roared. "The offer was fifty thousand and it would be best for her to take it. Only Julie's as stubborn as you are. She's bound to run that factory here. She's got some kind of idea of retribution. Of personally making up to the town for her father's closing the factory. So she turned down the offer."

Constitution was reflected on the councilmen's faces.

Thorny saw it with satisfaction. He put on his reading glasses and drew a letter from his desk drawer. "And that isn't all," he added. Slowly, relentlessly he read the letter from the railroad. There were gasps of dismay from all sides.

"Sure they can," Thorny assured him. "They can cut us off from Detroit as clean as a whistle. And it's pretty slim hitch-hiking these days. The town'll be in a pretty pickle then, won't it? It'll have to go to Julie Scarbrough on its knees and beg her to open the factory. And I wouldn't blame her if she'd decide about then she was tired of the whole project."

Thorny passed the letter around. "Maybe you'd like to compare the signature," he said ironically, "and make sure this isn't a trick." He sat for a while enjoying the comments of the council.

"Now are you going to give in before you're beaten to it?" he demanded.

Lockhart said slowly, "I think maybe we been pretty

RADIO PROGRAMS

World series play by play—MBS 2:45 to conclusion, with 15-minute per-game broadcast. Announcers Bill Slater, Bill Corum, Don Dunphy. Resume—NBC 6:15 and MBS 7:45.

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—While the first television football relay from Philadelphia to New York—Duke vs. Pennsylvania—wasn't up to the hoped-for standard, another game is to be tried Saturday afternoon if difficulties can be overcome.

If next Saturday's game is relayed by WNBT it will be Dartmouth vs. Pennsylvania. WPTZ plans to carry it to the Philadelphia area irrespective of a possible New York pickup.

JET PLANES TO BE DEVELOPED IN PEACETIME

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—Opportunities for exhaustive tests under combat conditions may well prepare the revolutionary jet-propelled plane for an immediate place in peacetime aviation, in the opinion of many air experts.

The Allies and Nazis now have jet planes in operation. Before the war with Germany ends it is conceivable that great dogfights may take place between these propellerless ships, driven at incredible speeds.

British jet-planes already have been in action against the German flying bombs and proved highly effective. There has been no official announcement, however, that the Allies have been using jet planes on escort duty with their heavy bombers.

Germany's use of the jet principle in the robot bombs and in some types of fighters now on combat service indicates her development of jet propulsion.

The first such engine produced in Britain was in 1937. America has been experimenting with jet planes for at least a year and now is reported ready for mass production of the comparatively simple engines.

Allied fighter and bomber pilots tell of encountering two types of German jet planes. They are meeting them in increasing numbers—in groups as large as 20 and 30.

Nazi Models Faulty

There is a single-engine type described as almost all wing and resembling a huge bat. There also is a twin-engine fighter bomber reported being used to attack ground forces. It carries two 500-pound bombs. Both types have estimated level speeds of between 500 and 600 miles an hour, but are best noted for their amazing rate of climb.

Pilots say the Nazi versions lack maneuverability and because of high fuel consumption can remain in flight only an hour or two.

In the last five months pilots have observed no outward changes in the German standard models—the ME-19 and FW-190—indicating that the Nazis have concentrated on producing the fast jet planes for the final showdown aerial battles.

ding veil. The fine net, lavishly embroidered, was arranged in cap style with a short cascade in the center of the back. The lace extended over the coat train on either side of the cascade.

Maid of Honor

Gardenias and stephanotis were used in the bridal bouquet.

Miss Glendon Buckley, Baltimore, as maid of honor and only attendant, wore a gown of ice blue tulle and net with a small hat of ostrich feathers and matching velvet ribbon bows. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations, interspersed with sprays of blue delphinium.

Music of Carlo Rossini was played by Mrs. D. Frederick Slegal, Miss Margaret Mary Tuel, Baltimore, sang "Ave Maria" and a hymn to the Blessed Mother during the ceremony.

The altar was decorated with ferns, palms and white chrysanthemums. The bride's mother wore a gown of silk crepe in grape shade with black hat and accessories and a corsage of delicately shaded orchids.

Reside in Washington

The bridegroom's mother wore black crepe with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Brig. Gen. Martin is on active duty with the Fifth Army in Italy.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin will be at home in Washington, D. C., after October 15.

In Medical Corps

Out-of-town guests included relatives and friends from Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Baltimore, Chicago and Southern Pines, S. C.

The bride graduated from Arden's vocational high school, was physical instructor at St. Joseph's Academy, McSherrystown, for a year and recently was secretary to County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh. She attended West Chester State Teachers' college.

Doctor Martin is a graduate of Mt. St. Mary's college at Emmitsburg and of Loyola university medical school at Chicago. He is now serving with the Army Medical

Rites Held Monday For Thomas Wright

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the late home for Thomas F. Wright, 79, Aspers, who died Friday morning from a complication of diseases. The Rev. Dr. H. D. Hoover officiated. Interment in the Friends cemetery, Florida Dale.

STOCKHOLDER'S RIGHTS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 2 (AP)—Right of a stockholder in a company to split a share stock three or more ways in voting for directors was argued before the state Supreme court today. The question arose in connection with a 1943 election by the Clawson Chemical Co. of Ridgway, Richard E. Cartwright appealing from a ruling of the judges of election and from an opinion of the Elk county Common Pleas court.

London, Oct. 3 (AP)—More than 1,000 American heavy bombers with more than 700 escorting fighters attacked war industries and airfields today at the southern German cities of Nurnberg, Gagganau and Giebelstadt.
